Journalist John O’Sullivan warned that the massive PCR testing campaign could be a WHO vaccination program in disguise. He was referring to a new technology developed at Johns Hopkins University that developed tiny, star-shaped micro-devices called ‘Theragrippers’ that attach to the intestinal mucosa and can deliver drugs into the body. The devices are made of metal and a thin film that changes shape and are as small as a dust particle. According to Johns Hopkins University, Theragrippers are administered with a cotton swab, similar to PCR tests. In October 2020, a Johns Hopkins University research team published positive results from an animal study confirming that the new technology works flawlessly.

In January 2019, the WHO defined the growing number of vaccination critics as one of the top ten threats to global health, and since the unprecedented Corona vaccination fiasco, the number of vaccination refusers has truly multiplied.

Meanwhile, resistance is forming even within the orthodox medical establishment. But the masterminds of the WHO continue to insist on an unrealistic vaccination coverage rate of at least 70 percent.

In this article, Jan Walter describes, with extensive source citations, which techniques are possible to still vaccinate the population, when people are becoming increasingly critical of vaccinations. This is only fueled by the continuing pressure for mass “vaccination” against a non-lethal disease for 99.8% of people, with a new type of “vaccine” that is actually gene therapy by means of mRNA. It seems like science fiction and is chilling, but the metohodes and techniques are available. There question is how far do we let it get?

Vaccinations increasingly scrutinized and the chilling alternative

Now several experts and former mainstream journalists like John O’Sullivan are warning that the massive PCR testing campaign could be a WHO vaccination program in disguise. to make it possible to carry out covert vaccinations through a PCR test. (See Johns Hopkins University) [4]

Inspired by a parasitic worm that digs its sharp teeth into the intestines of its host, Johns Hopkins researchers have developed tiny, star-shaped micro-devices that attach to the intestinal mucosa and can deliver drugs into the body.

These tiny devices, known as “Theragrippers,” are made of metal and a thin film that changes shape. They are covered with heat-sensitive kerosene wax and each no larger than a dust particle.

When the kerosene coating on the Theragripper reaches body temperature, the devices close autonomously and clamp onto the wall of the colon. Because of the sealing action, the tiny, six-pointed devices burrow into the mucosa and attach to the colon, where they are held and gradually release their drug load to the body. Eventually, the Theragripper lose their grip on the tissue and are removed from the colon through normal gastrointestinal muscle function.

Note: According to Johns Hopkins University, Theragrippers are actually administered with a cotton swab. (see Figure 2)

Gee, what a surprise...NOT ! I was skeptical from the moment I saw first image of the sh.t, I mean stick, inserted in somebody's nostrils...And I remembered the pictures from the tombs of the ancient Egyptians...the punishment of the slaves. More than that, as a Romanian redneck/hillbilly (an educated one, with over 17 years of school and 15-20 hundreds books readen in two languages), I remember some procedures of the veterinary technician/doctor performed on the farm's cattle. A coincidence, right ?!...Sure, keep dreaming:-)

In the fear mongering movie Contagion, they used a nasal vaccine.

That movie is what this scandemic is based on, all the way to it originating in bats in China, lock downs, internet “conspiracy” theories, etcetera.

Wayne, try this when you enter for your test. Tell the nurse/med staff that you have a fear of anything being placed up or near your nose because you got stung when you were young (say two or three) and you have a fear of anyone putting anything up or near your nose. Ask them politely to put that stick (well, it would be nice to tell them to shove it where the sun doesn't shine!) somewhere around the very lower parts of your nose or in your mouth. Straight afterwards try blowing your nose and rinse your mouth. That... Read more »

Very early on someone posted – and verified – that Moderna had actually made a patent application for its mRNA jab BEFORE the WHO ever declared this ‘pan(dem)ic’ ...

How do you suppose that happened?

Whitney Webb did some interesting articles about Moderna ... how, up until this Fauci flu event, Moderna was on the verge of bankruptcy — and somehow they’ve managed to make billion$ off of their jab and avoid their collapse.

Big surprise ...
