

Forsaken Children of a Forged Pandemic

Anguish is assured when depravity prevails

Robert W Malone MD, MS ✓

Dec 21

347

112

In this guest essay, David Marks, a 2022 CHD fellow (Children's Health Defense) and a veteran journalist and filmmaker, takes a few steps back to look at the unfolding of pandemic events with the experience of children in mind. We know many of these low points, and yet when they are seen sequentially, the tragedy is almost overwhelming and the challenge clear. This piece will also post on David's substack —

Report From Planet Earth

Thoughts, Information, and Opinion – With an Expansive Philosophical Perspective

By David Marks

Type your email...

Subscribe

— Perhaps consider subscribing, as he will be publishing new articles and interviews next year that will be as engaging as this piece.

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone

Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

Type your email...

Subscribe

Let me read it first >

Sign in

By

As

exa

and

per alre

An

of h

ma

bla

potential threat was duplicity of governments out a full evaluation of insurances exasperated an tion of the public. Because statistics being thogen that has been

Pharmaceutical giants quickly stepped in and opportunistically claimed they would provide all that was needed to eliminate the spread and dangers of a killer virus. To entrench their marketing position, they relied on and reiterated the baseless, widely held conventional wisdom that modern science and bio-medicine hold the only salvation to mitigate a human health disaster.

In lockstep, Big Pharma's proxies promoted a false narrative exaggerating the risk of agonizing sickness and death. Allied forces in politics and corporate news insisted that mandates and lockdowns were absolutely necessary until a new vaccine was concocted and distributed.

Less incendiary reports predicted there was an emerging powerful strain of the flu, and that it might be dangerous to the elderly or those with pre-existing illnesses. In response to this manageable global health crisis, the public was deceived into thinking they were in great jeopardy and that the only effective solution was the rapid development of untested biotechnology.

Alarming, genuinely helpful preventive measures were scorned and reliable remedies were deemed useless and made scarce.

The
for
the

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone

Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

The
inst
exp hur

dicts that will reverberate ose responsible dismiss res.

volent tactics lead to with children; their dysfunctional state of

Tar

Let me read it first >

Par
bei

are of how children were

Sign in

Det

al and non-verbal interaction. Many young children aren't speaking because of the covered faces surrounding them. Adults, school systems, and governments have battered a generation by restricting respiration and limiting essential communication.

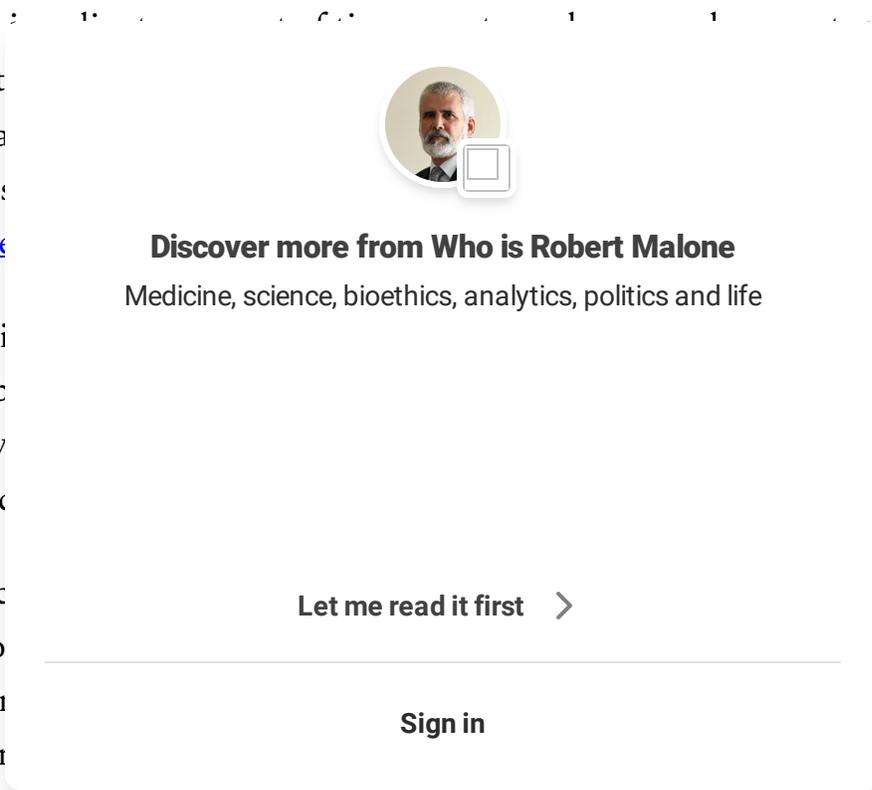

The coercive, fear-inducing dictates, with concurrent isolation and alienation, accelerated the degradation of a cruel environment where individuality is discouraged or shunned. Arbitrary measures reinforced a trend that had already been causing emotional damage.

Nasty, anti-social behavior has been escalating for years. Shaming and bullying have become normalized, despite attempts to quell them. In the effort to conform behavior for the sake of battling a virus, bullying became acceptable to enforce rules and restrictions, and ultimately; submitting to an experimental vaccination regimen.

This madness was broadly tolerated and inflicted with unbridled dogmatic conviction. With a transparent display of deference, the media continued to echo the prescribed narrative, demanding obedience without ethical considerations. Public indoctrination was the objective, enforced easily through a vast and invasive technological network.

An
to t to a tru dire Chi
hab hav
elec
Bec
pro
sta war

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone
Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

Let me read it first >

Sign in

has greatly contributed its own that is damaging ages give the illusion of with others. The lack of minished self-worth.
talk, initiating a life-long ul media; adults rarely rmation from an eir potential for selling t any sign of principled ches, directives, and ntial threat. This dire message was repeated everywhere to ensure conformity: dictatorial rules must be strictly obeyed by everyone without doubts or questions.

The vast majority of people were already groomed and vulnerable to these tyrannical self-righteous declarations. The rhetoric and enforced isolation induced a greater degree of separation between everyone. An atmosphere of acquiescence has been entrenched, supporting the misconception that individuals don't have control over their destinies; enabling further abuse and deception. Disconnected from nature and creativity, compliant populations lost all common sense under the impact of ridiculous mandates and counterproductive lockdowns.

Parents were distracted from being guardians; the facade of an exaggerated global crisis misled them into victimizing their offspring. The continuous overt willingness to dismiss or ignore the unnecessary suffering of children reveals a radical departure from natural instinct and sensitivity. Irrational and immoral responses to the pandemic continue to fuel a devastating plight.

The effects of the virus do not compete with the damage humans are inflicting upon their young.

Ad

As

intu mir

Chi

rea

hav

feel tha

abo

Ove

existed in a realm where much of the joyfulness of interaction had already been crushed. With the pandemic's limitations on freedom, many children wondered if they would ever find a secure place within the surge of threatening and dangerous risks. As repressive measures surrounded them, including physical barriers, social distancing, and school closures, they were increasingly harmed by the inability to develop or maintain friendships.

Confinement and restriction are devastating psychological afflictions that have been forced upon children. Excessive and obsessive control leads to anxiety, depression, and antisocial behavior. Authoritarian regulation, whether from parents, teachers, or governments, induces disempowerment, which exacerbates both aggressive and self-

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone

Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

Let me read it first >

Sign in

nfants and toddlers

parents' persona —

, particularly when the ordered to obey edicts that young people continue to of restrictive measures confused and apprehensive ople recognized they destructive behavior. The fallout from this tense climate is only beginning to permeate the world, further revealing the failures of policies and protocols.

Although increasing steadily over the last ten years, homicides of children spiked sharply during the pandemic. Murder, not disease nor car accidents, is the leading cause of childhood deaths in the United States; now exacerbated by unnecessary and confining official regulations.

Unraveling the truth about the incident of teenage suicide automatically raised the nur

Self and acc

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone
Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

Let me read it first >

Sign in

With into effe wit pos

Thi rationaie was also fabricated; much like the claims of safety and effectiveness.

ss. Those who engendered lines are responsible and motion of vaccines surged ns that they were safe and ey were pushed on those ck succession, every ded children. The

The COVID vaccines were not only incapable of stopping the spread of the disease; they are also likely to make recipients susceptible to the virus and its symptoms. This revelation on its own shows the duplicity and dangers of the campaign to vaccinate children.

Because youngsters have great resistance to all diseases, they are more vulnerable to the capricious and injurious interventions of a society that has lost its understanding of good health. Routinely vaccinating healthy infants and young children is based on the false assumption that medical science can create compounds that usurp the complex and wondrous power of natural immunity.

Unless there is a life-changing disorder, there is no excuse to experiment and tamper with the brilliance of human genetics and inborn resistance to disease.

Despite absolute confirmation that children have innate protection from COVID-19, a manipulative threat was conceived and disseminated. The most appalling disinformation claimed that unvaccinated, symptom-free children could spread the disease, and thus be responsible for the illness and death of their elders. This fabrication, blindly accepted by parents and hurled at innocent youngsters, was a cru

and

The
doe
ma
vac sec

It is bee
mo ens

Inc

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone

Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

Let me read it first >

Sign in

e ambitions of charlatans logic or science, yet this vaccine is approved, re damaged by laws and statutes that risks versus benefits” has ate risks, maximize gressively launched to e fraudulent mentality.

The push to jab children demonstrates the ruthless operations of a vastly compromised system. The barbaric and bribed government officials who enforce this agenda are outright co-conspirators with vaccine manufacturers.

Children remain helpless to defend themselves against the promoted paranoia and their parent’s insistence that they need to be vaccinated. Needless and potentially damaging vaccines continue to be blindly approved and injected into the healthy bodies of infants and adolescents.

With eyes opened wide to the panic, and plied with a potentially dangerous experimental compound, children watched their parents succumb to external authorities and become unable to function normally. They recognize the disorder around them, well aware that those they looked to for stability are losing any semblance of self-determination. When an adult's basic material responsibility is to protect, shelter and feed a child — and that ability is threatened or reduced — all aspects of health become impaired.

Children are forlorn and unprotected against future crises, mandates, and a social order that has lost any understanding of what is important for their good health. They bear the greatest short and long-term burdens.

Alt
hea effe

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone

Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

We
pov resj

r health, young and st number of acute adverse on children's health by ldren from the misguided nning to unfold.

Wh
rea

ong-term traumatic ons.

Let me read it first >

Tol

Sign in

The
the

nips have degraded with h the current climate dramatically exposes this failure, it is important to consider how parenting has become deeply problematic.

All of us were children, and the children of today will be the adults of tomorrow; our childhood remains within us as a powerful guide. To a great degree, early experiences determine what we tolerate — and direct us in guiding toddlers and teens.

Understanding the basic dynamics of our early years gives us a greater perspective in making decisions. By acknowledging the faults of those who raised us — and avoiding those traits — each new generation theoretically becomes more capable of living by ethical principles and greater wisdom.

An antithetical, harmful pattern has become dominant. Often, the neglected or abused child, without intervention, grows up to be a neglectful or abusive parent. And a culture that allows negligent abuse in any form, sustains an aggressive, self-justifying, hostile force in the world.

Most modern societies have lessened, both inadvertently and intentionally, the closeness and security that promotes happy and stable extended families. The disconnect and lack of loving interaction adversely influence the lives of children; and by extension, parents, and

Tol
inc

The
Life
an bee

Thi
the onl
mo des for each other.

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone

Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

Let me read it first >

Sign in

ity, direction, and an ension of basic freedoms.

d as inevitable because of children and adults has a pathogen.

the devastating harm from ually assured this is the reality hasn't existed in repetition of self-ability to genuinely care

Incredibly, even with the rising voices of those who have been harmed by vaccines, and the noble efforts of individuals unafraid to speak the truth, the push towards dystopia has not altered its course.

Governments continue to suppress freedom of thought and speech with bitter rhetoric. Contact tracing and other invasions of privacy developed during the pandemic are now in use worldwide by law enforcement; a huge step has been taken towards a police state in a number of supposedly democratic countries.

Those unwilling to endure social, emotional, and corporal violations of the highest order — and refusing to comply with a ridiculous healthcare scheme — are deemed treacherous and sub-human. Over the use of a vaccine, the questioning of authority has become taboo; even when facing the loss of basic human freedoms.

This noxious insanity and justification of unnecessary hardship — particularly while tolerating vaccine injury — is a clear sign that civilization is severely impaired. There are no beneficiaries of this catastrophe.

Further repressive and harmful violations are being implemented; including ongoing vaccine injury, and diseases. Government

inter pop

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone

Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

Alt
right pre
pro
con

eed for change, human nptoms of a deep, encouraging parents to d painful relationships will

The

Let me read it first >

Res

Des
hav
healthy and cheerful children.

Sign in

broken. Current trends is essential for raising

An infant craves contact, warmth, and affection. From the moment babies depart the incomparable security of a mother's womb, they seek communication and connection. For thousands of years, most indigenous cultures continuously carried and held their babies — and slept with toddlers in the same bed — establishing life-long emotional security. This initial nurturing bond is the foundation of belonging and self-worth.

Strength and balance are intertwined with caring, conscientious proximity. Those who nourish an infant's well-being and give unconditional love are the source of vitality. Contemporary civilization has overshadowed this simple knowledge in favor of using a range of damaging products; including vaccines, infant formulas, and de-natured foods. Technology has usurped intimacy.

The ongoing challenges of raising healthy children are seemingly relentless, yet the adaptability of youngsters is spectacular. For example, if babies born prematurely are protected in an incubator — without primary contact — and receive subsequent affection; they can become joyful, whole human beings. Despite the most demanding circumstances and events, people of all ages have enormous resilience. There is always a cre:

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone

Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

Let me read it first >

Sign in

wakened, virtuous children can be reduced to a social order. If the harmful will be mitigated by a life that has any hope of meaning, then on we find ourselves in with technological vulgarity and a developing, deep

The destabilizing illusion prevails that we are mechanistic devices that can be re-engineered and enhanced to become something better; as though humans have inherent inadequacies and design imperfections.

Our form is miraculous, although human behavior has much room for improvement.

Most of the threats we face today can be traced to the bold and erroneous assumption of self-centered pre-eminence. Anthropomorphic arrogance ignores the interconnectedness of all things and defies the reality of our collective interests with everything in our environment.

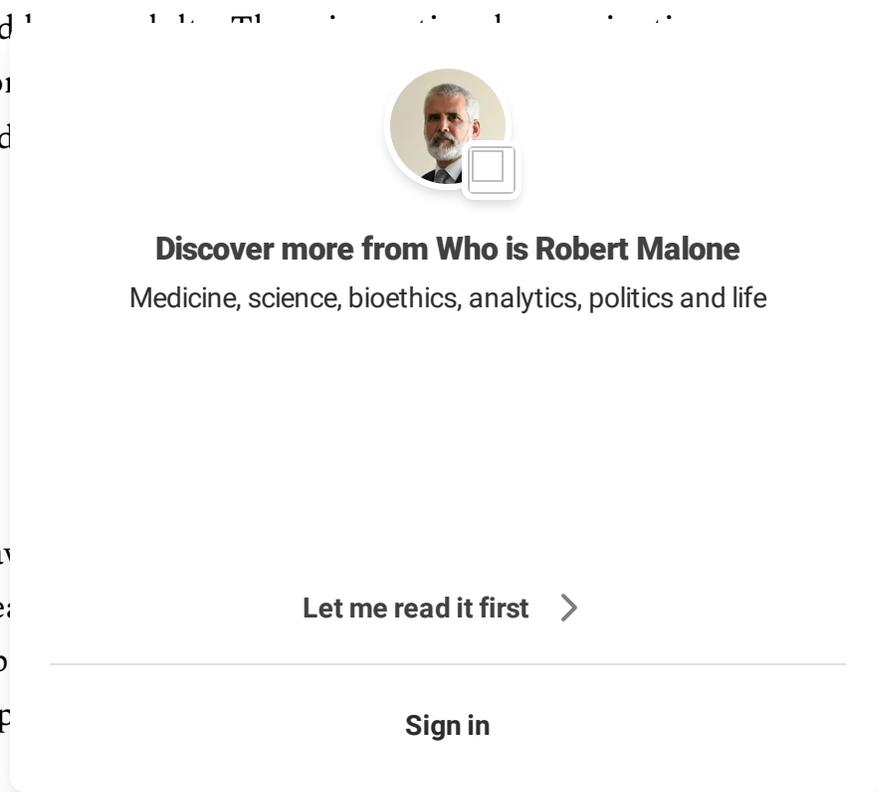

Recent events confirm the exponential advancement of divisive trends. Those who promote the ungrounded perspective of human dominance over everything, have no concept of the cataclysmic aftermath of meddling with our core design.

The disastrous influences on childhood development are the impediments to establishing a peaceful society. Supporting children’s physical and psychological health is imperative for humanity’s evolution.

Our threatening predicament at times seems insurmountable. Yet children embody the seeds of hope for the future; they simply need love and nurturing to grow into healthy

and
wor
and

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone
Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

Let me read it first >

Sign in

rection: supporting a indoctrination, coercion, scribe

Have
plea e-b hyp ghy in “Love Actually,” But Told Me” for free (for the ed to “wake up” the

#8

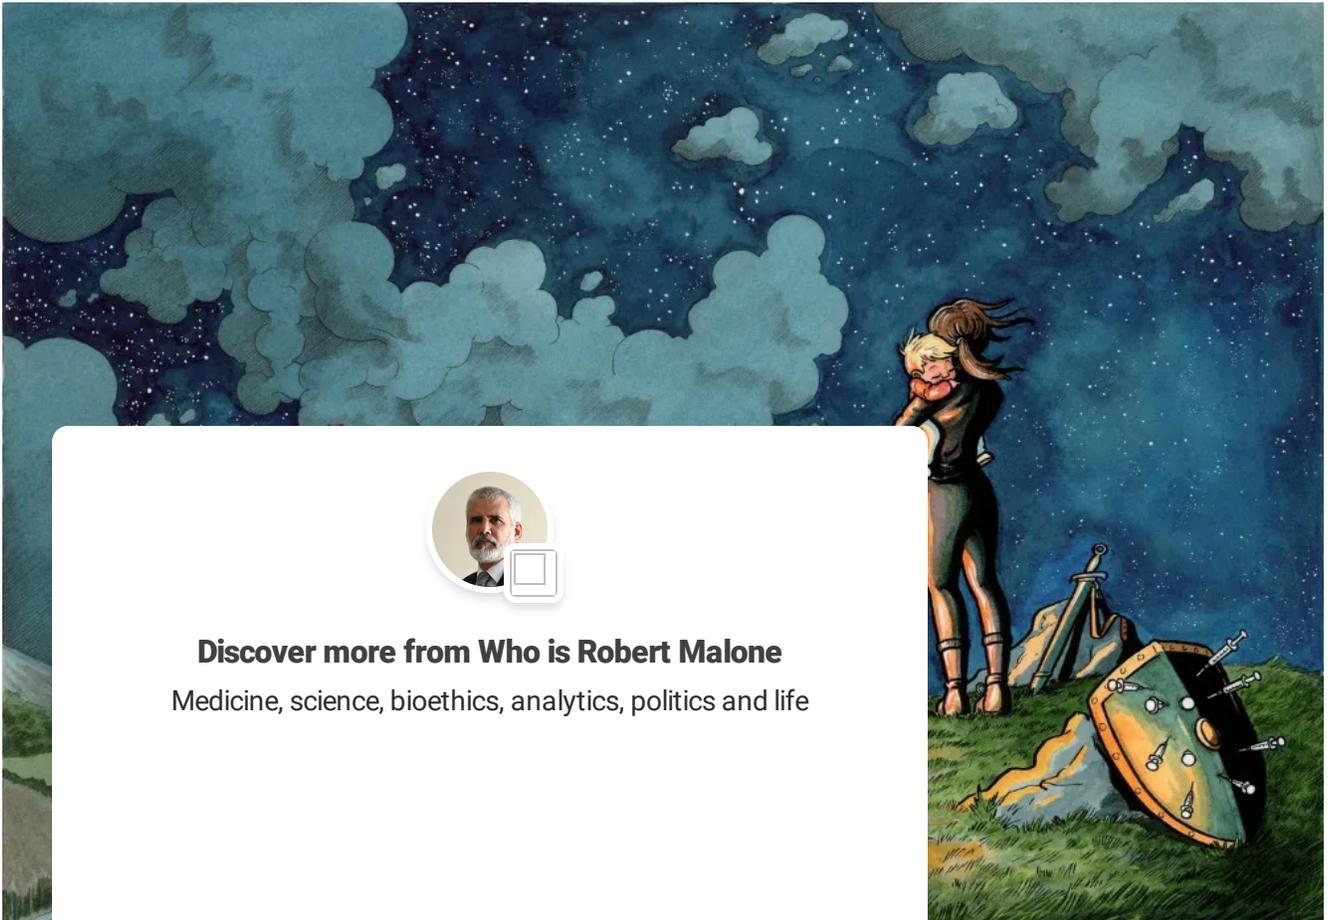

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone

Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life ature...

Let me read it first >

Sign in

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone

Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

Let me read it first >

Sign in

o) 2022 | Oracle Films

112 Comments

Write a comment...

Jo Sinael Dec 21 Liked by Robert W Malone MD MS

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone

Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

Let me read it first >

Sign in for a member of my family. A for 3 months. Was in the ER nt. Circles under the eyes.

wind up with a bleeding heart.
Inerable members on all children from being harmed?

periment on the human race will cause because they don't have the responsibility to do it with medical research that requires it be done slowly and carefully so they DO NO HARM! I sense that Dr. Malone believes there is value to the mRNA injections if done properly, but for now until we have stringent rules on how to proceed it needs to be STOPPED! What say you Dr. Malone?

16 Reply Collapse

39 replies by Robert W Malone MD, MS and others

110 more comments...

© 2022 Robert W Malone, MD · Privacy · Terms · Collection notice Substack is the home for great writing

Discover more from Who is Robert Malone

Medicine, science, bioethics, analytics, politics and life

Let me read it first >

Sign in