

Search

UPDATE – So, You Did Not Take the COVID-19 Shot, Why Not?

January 14, 2023 | Sundance | 4,335 Comments

UPDATE!!!

I am bumping this post to the top of the page and updating because, well, I'll explain.

First, thank you. Sincere and genuine thankfulness for your fellowship. Visitors to this site continue to prove that our nation is created by, and an assembly of, the most decent, honest, generous and kind-hearted people in the world. The responses to the question of ‘why didn’t you take the covid-19 shot?’ are nothing short of remarkable.

In the bigger picture if you want to fill up your faith cup and recognize the scale of commonsense assembly in our nation, take the time to read through the 2,000+ responses.

The feedback you are providing is exceptional and trust me when I say that far more people are reading these responses than you could fathom. Additionally, the responses have reasserted my belief in the scale of our national assembly. There are far more of us, ordinary, hardworking, commonsense, pragmatic and smart people, than the self-described intellectual elites would ever admit.

In addition to the responses below, there have been hundreds of emails answering the question, which suddenly made me realize that no one has really ever asked this question before in a format that provides ordinary people with the ability to respond.

There is also a yearning to talk about this issue, publicly and with deliberation; massively so. And I am hopeful (insert grin here) this small corner of the internet is about to push this conversation into a much larger national forum. Our nation needs a big conversation about this.

If I had to pick a single phrase to encapsulate the myriad of phenomenal responses to the question I would use the phrase, “intellectual discernment”; which again provides buckets of faith that a large number of people are wide awake, albeit part of what I call a potato revolution growing safely underground.

Also, unbeknownst to front page readers I am stunned at the people in/around operation warp-speed, these are people in government directly attached to the issue, who have contacted CTH on the backside, stepped forward and said they also didn't take the shot because, well, despite their belief in the purpose and principle at the time, things were just not adding up and ultimately seemed sketchy. They couldn't talk (so they felt), couldn't even hint at their concern; but when it came to making the personal decision, they waited.

I also owe it to you to answer the question of my own status, which is a big heck no – I did not take the job.

Why? Because in the preceding years of all my research into the rapidly exposed corruption of our government, there was just no way in hell I was going to trust that same system. A system that literally was working outside the constitution and legal framework of our nation to destroy a sitting U.S. President is going to suddenly care about my health. Nope, it did not align. I also looked at the datapoint of the U.S.S. Comfort delivered to New York City under the grandest of media proclamations about impending medical doom, only to see the ship sit empty and completely unused despite the scale of the narrative that surround its purpose.

Lastly, and more obliquely, the datapoint of one of my heroes Franklin Graham assembling a NY field hospital to serve over 20,000 patients; another massive endeavor that sat empty and without use. However, prior to the hindsight, it was the in-real-time fight from officials in/around the area who tried to block Samaritans Purse from setting up the facility. If the SARS-CoV-2 issue was as great a threat as declared, then why would anyone fight to keep out a field hospital that could provide such relief. It just didn't make sense.

Those issues, and others, formed the baseline of my inability to reconcile the key issue of 'trust' needed to believe in the vaccine. Additionally, I am healthy and not within any of the risk factors. However, I also feel strongly that each health decision is unique to the individual person, and everyone was making the best decisions for them based on the available information at the time; so, I carry no judgement for those who made a different choice.

As noted, I am bumping this to the top of the site so that our conversation can continue. Normally I would start a new thread, but this one is different. I don't want to break the continuity and I want to provide everyone the ability to see they are not alone.

Love to all,

Sundance

Reader feedback request.

I was quite shocked to review a poll I took on the Twitter last month showing that 85% of the people who follow the CTH Twitter account [TLR2] did not take the COVID-19 jab.

Without any judgement implied or inferred I am genuinely curious, why not?

With the situation clearly in hindsight, and/or given all the pressure that may have been applied to each individual situation, I am genuinely curious what was it that made you choose not to take the COVID-19 vaccination.

If you are comfortable, and please understand that no pressure is intended in any way whatsoever, could you share why you didn't take the vaccine and how do you feel about that decision in hindsight?

If you did take the vaccination, there is also no judgement in this question. As I said back in 2021 each individual is unique, each situation is unique, and each person has to make the best decision about what is in their individual best interests. So please, don't let this issue divide our conversation.

I am genuinely curious as to the reason so many people would withstand the public and perhaps peer pressure to follow the 'vaccination' advice. Also, how has that decision impacted your life? Did you lose friends and family over your personal health decision? Did those relationships heal over time? Or anything else you might find pertinent to the general question.

6. It was shown early on that the fatality rate from covid was minuscule
7. vaccines have always taken 7-15 years to develop and safety test, this was supposedly done in 9 months?
8. the more the bribery and coercion to take the shot, the less agreeable to it I became
9. to echo Sundance, the government has been lying to me for as long as I've been paying attention (many decades now)

👍 16

↪
Reply

Rhonda Smith 🕒 January 23, 2023 6:01 pm

↪ Reply to Amuzed_Traveler

Amuzed_Traveler – Your reasons for not taking the shot are the same reasons I decided NOT to take it. I felt like it was rushed through – not tested enough. I heard several things about people having adverse effects and some even died. All of the information about how it could be dangerous or harmful was suddenly suppressed, I really felt like the public was being lied to. There were few places I could go to hear even a whisper of opposition. I had to worry about being kicked off of social media if I dared to share an “un-approved” post. I read a lot about doctors and nurses who were losing their jobs and positions for speaking out against it. Then, when alternate, affordable, inexpensive substances/medications (Hydroxychloroquine) were forbidden – that really sealed the deal for me.

👍 11

↪
Reply

Christina 🕒 January 23, 2023 4:38 pm

↪ Reply to delow24

Ditto!

👍 5

↪
Reply

Alan 🕒 January 27, 2023 7:37 am

↪ Reply to delow24

Hello,

Pfizer Exec Admits “We Never Tested Vaccine Against Transmission”
<https://www.euopereloaded.com/pfizer-exec-admits-we-never-tested-vaccine-against-transmission/>

Trudeau and Hancock Publicly Confronted (Pfizer’s Bourla Already Had His Turn)
<https://www.euopereloaded.com/trudeau-and-hancock-publicly-confronted-pfizers-bourla-already-had-his-turn/>

Regards,

Alan

Reply

Ang January 22, 2023 2:28 pm

As an evangelical, politically conservative, pro-life, stay-at-home parent my views are NEVER reflected positively in the media. Therefore, I am quite immune to believing any media drumbeat on any issue.

Moreover, I had pediatricians for my kids who advised against them getting the HPV vaccine when it came out due to the fact that it generally takes some time for safety signals to appear when new vaccines are released.

These facts, along with the statistics of who was dying from Covid, e.g., that the average age was older than US life expectancy, helped shape my decision to not get the Covid shots.

I am fortunate that I was not working at the time so didn't have that as part of my decision making process.

I am concerned about my spouse and kids, all of whom have gotten the shots including boosters to varying degrees as well as concerned about shedding from the shots from my spouse.

Reply

Christina January 23, 2023 4:41 pm

Reply to Ang

It does seem to transfer via bodily secretions, so you might want to try to mitigate the effects with one of the protocols published by Epoch Times.

Reply

Terri B January 24, 2023 12:19 am

Reply to Ang

How did your kids and spouse end up getting shots and not you too?
I don't understand how you could allow your children to participate when it is not something that you yourself would do

👍 2 Reply

Ang 🕒 January 26, 2023 11:00 pm

🗨️ Reply to Terri B

I tried over many days to elucidate reasons not to take the mRNA shots. All my kids are adults in their mid- 20s to early 40s and they felt that they should get the shots so things could open up and to protect my generation and my parents' generation.

The media did a complete snow job on them.

They believed the "prevailing wisdom" and not me nor any info I provided. My resources were deemed, by them, to be not trustworthy.

👍 0

➔ Reply

HaKolBzman 🕒 January 22, 2023 2:33 pm

1. I saw the video by the Irish forensic geneticist in early 2020 who's life has been destroyed and much of it made sense to me. All animals injected with mRNA technology died, which is why big pharma intentionally skipped this step. These shots were already known to change DNA. No mRNA to date had ever been approved other than for emergency use like the ebola vaccine.

2. Natural immunity is the absolute gold standard to fight any disease and the fact we were being told we needed to be vaxxed even after contracting covid didn't sit right.

3. This technology has been around for over 20 years and clearly had not been perfected because not 1 mRNA vaccine had ever been approved.

4. No one and I mean no one knew what the long term affects would be. (This alone stopped many of my friends and family from getting vaxxed because most had already gotten sick and had natural immunity and when discussing side effects or potential ones no one had answers in 2020) none of us were anti-vax we all figured we'd wait for more data. We are all glad we did.

5. I am actually reactive to many plastics and nylons and since no one would disclose what the nanoparticles were made of I would not risk being injected.

#5 is the main reason I sought a medical exemption that was immediately granted and I was grateful.

📝 Last edited 4 days ago by HaKolBzman

👍 20

➔ Reply

dabrack 🕒 January 23, 2023 2:05 pm

🗨 Reply to HaKolBzman

Number 1 applies to COVID-19 in 2020 and 2021 because it WAS an unknown and the first model (by that imbecile British doctor and basement pandemic data modeler) proclaimed an infection rate over 90% and a death rate of half. We know much better now but then . . . I think it unfair and unproductive to judge with hindsight.

BTW : remember that the media and all the anti-Trump forces would not allow ANY changes to that very first plan even when new info was available

👍 2 ➡ Reply

Alec Rawls © January 22, 2023 9:02 pm

It would also be interesting to hear why people DID get the vax. I bet a lot of the CTH readers who did take the shots did so under extreme duress. Vast numbers of people were fired here in Washington State for refusing the vax.

All state workers who refused were fired, and WA also used its license bureaus to force people to vax. (My personal comment on p.50 tells of a friend who would have lost her medical license if she waited another week, was injured, and is now mostly recovered, fingers crossed.)

Like Biden's military leaders, WA governor Inslee knew that the resisters were mostly conservative, and (our Constitution be damned) saw mandates as an opportunity to purge people who disagree with him politically from every branch of government, purging them from livelihoods, and in some substantial percent of cases from life itself.

Newsweek, October 26, 2021: "People who lose their job over a vaccine mandate are generally considered ineligible for unemployment benefits."

Fired in the midst of a forced economic turndown/lockdown AND denied any financial help. This was and is Holodomor. The coercion was extreme, so of course many people thought that the vax would do more harm than good still succumbed to this unconstitutional medical tyranny.

The question became: "Which is worse, taking the unnecessary and risky shots, or having my life dumped upside down in the street?"

The stories on both sides of that terrible question must in many cases be wrenching, with hopefully not too many serious injuries to report from those who chose to keep themselves and their families from being dumped immediately into the street, but both sides should be told.

Sympathies also to those who simply were not alert enough to the possibility of being lied to by their own doctors and other authorities they should have been able to trust. The scope of the betrayal is truly astounding and unexpected even for someone as jaded as me.

Medicine is apparently as much under the thumb of 100% political funding as the utterly phony field of “climate science.” In both fields, anyone who goes even momentarily against the official narrative never gets another penny.

Al Gore created that funding structure for climate research. Fauci did it for medical research, gaining control over every medical school, every hospital, and from there over every individual doctor.

The stories of the duped will be equally telling in their own way.

 21  Reply

Alan  January 27, 2023 7:38 am

 Reply to Alec Rawls

Hello,

Pfizer Exec Admits “We Never Tested Vaccine Against Transmission”
<https://www.euopereloaded.com/pfizer-exec-admits-we-never-tested-vaccine-against-transmission/>

Trudeau and Hancock Publicly Confronted (Pfizer’s Bourla Already Had His Turn)
<https://www.euopereloaded.com/trudeau-and-hancock-publicly-confronted-pfizers-bourla-already-had-his-turn/>

Regards,

Alan

 0  Reply

ShenValGirl  January 23, 2023 7:38 am

The numbers made no sense. Available information showed that someone in my age group in good health had a +99.9% survival rate were I to contract the virus. Repeated letters to the editor of local newspapers and emails/ calls to radio and tv reporters urging them to investigate and accurately report the numbers were ignored. I’m in my 60s and have declined all the “senior” vaccines. I believe that eating well, fresh air, sunshine, physical activity, sweat, and contact with dirt keep you healthy. Basically, common sense prevailed when those around me were losing their minds!

 25  Reply

Candi January 23, 2023 8:35 am

I'm sort of a natural skeptic. If everyone is doing it I'm most likely not going to. Additionally I'm a "researcher" which kept my husband from taking a cancer treatment that wouldn't have worked and also refusing Remdesivir when he ended up in the hospital. Early on a friend sent Sherri Tenpenny's warning and we said "NO WAY". These brave people speaking out are amazing and we owe our lives to so many willing to risk everything.

19

Reply

Tammy Dail January 23, 2023 3:06 pm

Reply to Candi

Amen!

0

Reply

PatA January 23, 2023 4:00 pm

Reply to Tammy Dail

Yes, Sherri Tenpenny's 20-plus years of research into viruses and vaccines was key to my decision not to vax. She unpacked exactly what the mRNA vaccine could do to the human body — especially the heart, kidney, and reproductive systems — she estimates we'll see years of serious repercussions.

3

Reply

Bonnie Matheson January 23, 2023 9:10 am

My grandmother died at the age of 24 from the Spanish Flu in 1918. My mother was a baby of 8 months at the time. All my life, we have discussed issues about health and that flu in particular. My Mother was remarkably healthy all of her life, and she died at almost 102 years old in 2019(before covid). So when covid raised its head, I began to research it immediately. Was this going to be a worldwide disaster? Or not. Almost immediately, I realized it was NOT going to be the same at all. For one thing, the Spanish Flu killed young and healthy people. Actually, many of them died from the treatment rather than the disease. Look it up! But when I realized that it was really people OVER 80 who were dying from covid. I relaxed. Even though I was 78 at the time. It was clear to me that "THEY," whomever they were, were trying to scare us into submission. The survival rate simply did not recommend being so fearful of the virus. What was going on? I spent hours most days looking at documents, studies, comments, websites, opinions, and just chatting with friends. I became very well-versed in the information available. I kept a record of the articles that seemed most important. That document is thousands of pages long if anyone ever wanted to print those articles out. When the shots came out, I had already had a mild case of covid and was not worried about getting it again. I have never taken a flu shot in my life. I believe in natural immunity whenever possible. I had my childhood vaccines, and so did my children, but they were only a few. These days the whole vaccine industry has evolved into a monster. So I was never tempted to get a covid shot. Not only that, I know of only one person who supposedly died of covid. But I know many people who have been injured some very seriously, by the jab. It should be an individual choice. Some people need the reassurance of taking medication to stay healthy. Others trust their bodies and the alternative cures and treatments available if they get sick. I believe in individual freedom. But please do a little research before you blindly follow any government suggestion.

👍 17

Reply

Lisa 🕒 January 24, 2023 9:33 am

🗨️ Reply to Bonnie Matheson

It gives me faith in humanity knowing that so many people do know the truth about Spain Flu.

Thank you for sharing your knowing and truth.

👍 2

Reply

Alan 🕒 January 27, 2023 7:39 am

🗨️ Reply to Bonnie Matheson

Hello,

Pfizer Exec Admits “We Never Tested Vaccine Against Transmission”

<https://www.euopereloaded.com/pfizer-exec-admits-we-never-tested-vaccine-against-transmission/>

Trudeau and Hancock Publicly Confronted (Pfizer’s Bourla Already Had His Turn)

<https://www.euopereloaded.com/trudeau-and-hancock-publicly-confronted-pfizers-bourla-already-had-his-turn/>

Regards,

Alan

👍 0 Reply

Richard Way 🕒 January 23, 2023 9:16 am

I have Gilliam-Barre syndrome and cannot be vaccinated for anything. Under no circumstances will I be forced to take the jab. I risk nervous system damage if vaccinated. No thanks.

👍 6 Reply

GINGER 🕒 January 24, 2023 5:37 pm

🗨️ Reply to Richard Way

I am sorry for your struggles. I hope you find alleviation for your suffering. Have you ever been vaccinated, in the past?

👍 0 Reply

Mary Crow 🕒 January 23, 2023 9:21 am

Risk benefit analysis didn't make sense. Nothing made sense. My "Spidey Senses" went wild and it was a massive Hell No for me. I had to constantly talk my family through it; they thought I was a little nuts but thankfully they trusted my mom-judgement enough, with the exception of my daughter who didn't want it but wasn't willing to give up her nursing school dreams (she did one JnJ, had a reaction that resolved, thank God, and hasn't had to do more). We own our own company and live in AZ so weren't forced; just gave up travel. Also I've been working against the medical/pharmaceutical industry with great disdain and distrust for decades, for a multitude of reasons, not the least of which is their long and storied history of being proven tragically wrong. I stockpiled all of the supplemental/ naturopathic remedies for the eventuality and it served us and a whole lot of friends and loved ones quite well.

👍 12 Reply

David Vreeland 🕒 January 23, 2023 9:28 am

I believe it was in April of 2021 that a friend emailed me a video of Dr. Cole talking about the dangers of the jab. My wife and I had an appointment the next day to get the J&J shot. When we heard Dr. Cole we decided then and there not to go through with it. Best decision we ever made.

👍 17

↪
Reply

GT 🕒 January 23, 2023 9:28 am

Things were just happening too fast for me. Being a retired teacher, I have time to read unbiased opinions and articles not of the mainstream media. Several issues honed in the reason to not submit. I have always been suspicious of big pharma with their pushing of every vaccine under the sun—flu, shingles, etc. At one time, I did take the flu vax every year until two people I knew got Guillian-Bere Syndrome. Animals in trials died. Human trials were a laughable and incomplete. Reputable doctors were talking conflicting opinions about the jab. Doctors who signed the Great Barrington Declaration, Zeb Zelenko, Pierre Kory, Peter McCullough, Simone Gold, Meryl Nass, and many more were risking everything to save people. I saw how out-of-control the bureaucracy in Washington was repeatedly infringing on our Constitutional freedoms. Why would I trust that same military industrial/corporate based government with my health?

🔗 Last edited 4 days ago by GT

👍 13

↪
Reply

Charlotte DeMarco 🕒 January 23, 2023 10:00 am

I did a lot of reading from sources other than the “fake news” and it definitely scared me into not taking the vaccine. I was 60 at the time and otherwise healthy, and working independently so I didn’t risk losing my job. My husband has a lot of doctor friends and he is 14 years older than me, he had already had Covid (3 weeks sick but no hospitalization) and those doctors convinced him to take the vaccine. Pfizer. Every day I am grateful I didn’t take it. I had Covid in January 2021 but the doctor was allowed (at that time) to prescribe Ivermectin and I was virtually symptom-free. When I posted about this on FB it was immediately removed!!! Also, members of congress did NOT have to take the vaccine, so....

👍 7

↪
Reply

RGS 🕒 January 23, 2023 10:02 am

I am a physician. I did all the wipe, wash, glove, and mask thing for the yr prior to the jab. We did not know much about the virus; we were told only that it could be a dangerous and possibly fatal bioweapon. I finally contracted the virus Jan 2021 and IMMED took both HydroxyC and Ivermectin, Vit D, etc(Dr Marik cocktail) and was back at work(I travel commercially) in 10 days, afebrile after 1 day. I read a lot from Marik, Zelenski, McCullough. But for my infection, I might have taken the jab.

Immunology 101 told me I had better and more lasting immunity to far more of the virus' different antigens after the infection than the vax could ever give me(unless the virus markedly mutated). That and the soon to come reports of vax side effects precluded my willingness to be jabbed thereafter.

👍 11

↪
Reply

T Hub ⌚ January 23, 2023 10:07 am

Among the early loud voices speaking out, I'm grateful to Dr. Stella Emanuel and Frontline doctors for their "Whitecoat Stand" on the steps to proclaim they were successfully treating COVID without hospitalization. They were shamed by mainstream media, which means to me that they were over the target. By the time the Vax was available in our area, I knew evil was behind it. At my urging, my spouse risked his job under high pressure. It caused marriage strain. Our Navy son sadly received it twice, but I send him supplements like Bromac to hopefully counter effects. VERY grateful for conservative media for telling the other side of the news.

👍 11

↪
Reply

David Barrett Sand ⌚ January 23, 2023 10:14 am

I am a Christian Scientist. I come from a family that has relied on prayer as taught in Christian Science for all of its health care needs. Christian Scientists, more often than not, turn first to Christianly scientific prayer as we call it. We have a remarkable, well documented record of healing that goes back 150 years. Although the church respects the right of each of its members to choose the type of care they desire, it promotes healing through spiritual means alone as the first and foremost means of treatment.

However, church members are law abiding and, when the law requires it, we do conform to public mandates. I was not in a situation where it was required and so I chose not to be vaccinated.

👍 4

↪
Reply

Cathy ⌚ January 23, 2023 10:49 am

My response to why I didn't get the jab...the reasons are many... No one is going to tell me what to put in my body and when. My faith leads me to believe that my body is god's temple and because of that I work hard at being very careful about what I put in my body.

I viewed COVID as just a flu a nasty flu but that's it.
I'm healthy and so far at my age of 65, I take no medicines and I want to keep it that way.
I did my own research and didn't like what I found.
I don't even get a regular flu shot.
There are a lot of rare diseases in my dad's side of the family and I don't want to risk taking a vaccine that might cause something to go wrong.
The government has no business telling me how to take care of my health.
Government can't run or do anything efficiently and effectively so why trust this.
How I take care of my health is business but my doctor's.
My list could continue for awhile but you get the idea.

 6  Reply

4OurFuture  January 23, 2023 11:34 am

Early on, April of 2020, my daughter who was in pharmaceutical school, brought ivermectin to my attention as a treatment being looked at in Australia.

My own personality is to be ever skeptic of the government, especially after watching their purposeful and intense pursuit to destroy President Trump; an outsider who was pulling back the curtain on corruption within both political parties as well as the media and the technology giants. I believed they would go to any means to destroy him even if it meant destroying others.

When my daughter brought ivermectin to my attention, I began to research more and more.

Nothing made sense in terms of the official narrative. Not the deaths, unused emergency facilities, placement of sick covid patients into elderly homes, doctors speaking out against the in-patient protocols and being censored, licenses being threatened for prescribing or using well known safe drugs for the off label use to treat covid.

When doctors, who were clearly risking everything and had nothing to gain and everything to lose, began speaking out against the vaccines, I was already highly skeptical of anything pushed by government in this arena.

From there, it was an easy step to simply compare agendas; who was risking everything to save people and who had everything to gain from destroying people?

I feel terrible for anyone who was unconstitutionally mandated and pray their health will not be affected.

👍 8

↩
Reply

GAU8A 🕒 January 23, 2023 11:43 am

I knew the people involved had done things that should have put them in prison. They sent weaponized Anthrax through the USPS, and killed a couple of people in a sorting facility that we were using as a test site for new equipment. This ultimately led to the creation of “Gulf War Syndrome” through their vaxx program, and a lot of lucrative contracts for the bio-security industry. No way I trusted them, because I had been there in the middle of it. I also knew that a coup was in process, and that the whole thing was a psychological operation. How? Well, we had already been sick with something that made us have intermittent 220BPM heart rates and general inflammation in our cardiovascular vascular system. So bad that we were lucky to not suffer strokes. This was before the Wuhan news broke, back in December of 2019. We joked about it being a bioweapon at the time, but I suspected that it actually was. It was an election year, and they were pulling out all the stops to prevent a landslide victory for a political outsider. They were wrecking the economy, locking every one down and promoting mail fraud.

Downloading and sorting the VAERS data five months after the roll out confirmed my suspicion. The sheer magnitude of reports was truly stunning. It took a while to sort because of the size of the file, and it seemed to be purposely difficult to use to ID specific AR's. The main thing I was seeing was vaginal bleeding, women having periods that would not end. This is truly the most despicable crime against humanity ever. The shot is the more effective bio weapon. There is transmission from vaxxed to unvaxxed individuals, and this is what has prolonged the agony and suffering throughout the world. Everyone has been harmed, not just those who were forced or coerced to get injected. I think we will all die sooner as a result, and obviously there are fewer births and more babies with significant health problems now. Depopulation was what this was all about. The USG is unquestionably where this began. I have been very vocal in calling for the defunding of the agencies involved. Their yearly budgets are in the billions of USD. They are waging a war on us, and the world, using our tax dollars. Top to bottom, they are all war criminals. There is no reason to ever accept anything like the injections. It violates our laws, and international accords. I lost my job, I lost relatives, I lost contact with relatives, I lost friends, but I will not surrender.

👍 15

↩
Reply

Alan 🕒 January 27, 2023 7:40 am

↩ Reply to GAU8A

Hello,

Pfizer Exec Admits “We Never Tested Vaccine Against Transmission”
<https://www.euopereloaded.com/pfizer-exec-admits-we-never-tested-vaccine-against-transmission/>

Trudeau and Hancock Publicly Confronted (Pfizer’s Bourla Already Had His Turn)
<https://www.euopereloaded.com/trudeau-and-hancock-publicly-confronted-pfizers-bourla-already-had-his-turn/>

Regards,

Alan

gm  January 23, 2023 11:43 am

My decision to not get the shots stems from my research of what’s in them, and from how they were approved. I started researching them after a relative had a bad reaction from their first shot, and asked my advice on getting the second shot. At the time I had no preference. Many around me had just spent weeks calling in to pharmacies to get their lottery chance at an appointment to get injected. The successful ones had stories on their prolonged efforts to get it done, and they were now proud to be “inoculated”. In the past I only had flu vaccine shots two times, and in general feel that my immune system is very healthy and I didn’t need them—I haven’t had a cold or the flu for many years now. Below are points I would like to make about my decision:

- 1) I read that Polyethylene glycol (PEG) was being used in the shots, and despite many attempts in the past, had never been approved for a vaccine before. Then, there was the fact that what was actually in these shots was apparently being hidden, which was a reason for my building skepticism.
- 2) When the government had to change the definition of what a vaccine was, in order to get their shots approved, this put me over the top in my decision against getting them. CDC wording changes – FROM: “a product that stimulates a person’s immune system to produce immunity a specific disease”, TO: “a preparation that is used to stimulate the body’s immune response against diseases.” It seemed clear that this change was made just to allow these now so called “vaccines”. So this was proof that the government was more than just working to get an effective shot, no, they were working with the pharma companies to get their shots approved!
- 3) As I researched Covid 19 more, it became clear to me that it was actually some form of flu or pneumonia, and as I said before, I haven’t had the flu for many years. I attribute this to many supplements I take, some of which are actually listed on the governments’ web sites (NIH) as being viable treatments for the stated conditions of Covid-19 patients. The facts that now, miraculously, all cases of the flu have suddenly disappeared as far as the government is concerned, also raised red flags for me. I found that in the years preceding Covid, there were usually around 60,000 deaths per year from the flu. Then in 2020 and 2021 there were effectively none? More importantly, why does everyone I talk to say they didn't realize that people used to die from the flu?

4) Later on there was information that came out on how much hospitals were getting from the government, to declare a death attributable to Covid. Why is our government making it profitable to have a patient die from Covid? By this time I had made up my mind on not getting shots. But I don't understand why others don't research things like this and then realize how much our government has lied to us about Covid? How can they spend so much money on false advertising about "Safe and Effective" shots? And what will it take for the many sheep in this country to realize that they have been had? You know that saying that "It's easier to fool people than to convince them that they have been fooled."

Thankfully, I haven't had a job or other requirement to get the shots. However, my doctor was very adamant that I get one. That was hard for me to understand given his background as someone who researched things well. But I am used to being able to research things and make my own decision. That is something my doctor had always accepted and even seemed to admire in the past. So why was he so adamant about getting this shot? Just another thing that didn't make sense.

 9  Reply

Gene Collier  January 23, 2023 11:54 am

I am a student of the Bible and follow prophecy. I have viewed the covid jabs as an initial step in the process of mind control and the eventual outcome of "the mark of the beast". My faith in the Bible is unshakable, so I believe a one-world government is inevitable. Dark forces are at work!

 9  Reply

Edward Werick  January 23, 2023 12:19 pm

A year or so before the Covid-19 hoax was pulled on us, I had been researching Graphene Oxide which was being presented as a new type of electrical storage battery. Once the "pandemic" was in full swing, I began trying to learn all I could about what was contained in the "vaccine" (not easy) Much to my amazement, I again found a reference to Graphene Oxide. I also found references to chemicals which were reported to alter human DNA. None of this looked like something that would improve my state of health.

I was skeptical about the hazard of the virus because if it was a “pandemic” as presented, the dead bodies of the homeless would be disposed of with highlifts and dump trucks. I also noted that the reported cases of Influenza dropped to nearly zero. Then elderly people diagnosed with Covid-19 were being forced into nursing homes which cared for people who did not have it in an obvious attempt to infect them as well. The lock-down mandate prevented the families of those diagnosed with Covid to receive proper care. Everything seemed to be working toward making the situation as bad as possible. As all this was going on, persistent rumors that Covid-19 was a bio-weapon developed in a lab in China and released upon the worlds population were being put forth. I must make it clear that for many years I have used the internet for my news and entertainment. I have been convinced since the fall of 2016 that the people in power within our federal government have made the removal of Donald Trump “Job#1” The first time I heard him say “I’m going to drain the swamp” in Washington I said to myself “Oh boy! Here we go!” The response of the denizens of that swamp has been very clear over the last 6 years and the depths they are willing to go to are still being revealed.

I am a Viet-Nam era military veteran, I live alone and I have no children or major debts. I receive what health care I need from the VA who (so far) has not enforced any mandates concerning the”jab” or any injections. I live on a fixed income which is tax free so my situation makes me somewhat immune to coercion for which I am grateful.

During the summer of 2021 I was diagnosed with Covid-19 and spent 4 days in the hospital where I was actually treated for Pneumonia. Since release, I have considered myself immune to the Covid-19 virus. I was a bit concerned at first because I have what are called “Co-morbidities” high blood pressure, congestive heart failure,diabeties, COPD and I’m about 100# overweight. Each week which passes by reveals new evidence of the hazards of the MNRA injection and makes it less and less likely that I will ever let anyone approach me with a hypodermic full of that POISON.

Parfie January 23, 2023 12:44 pm

I had been on to the vaccine issues, from around 2010-2012 which is when I received the last VAX, I have had.

I have heart failure, I have had 8 heart attacks by my count, and I am clogged in 3 places in my circulatory system. I have been running around this way for years now..All Glory to The Most High!

Why I didn't get the vaccine? Mostly because I had been watching the criminality in our government, for over 20 years, and I accurately told my group what I thought the VAX would do.. and unfortunately, it did exactly what

I said it would do. Did people listen? Nope! My Ex-Hubby is vaxxed (we remained friends, we see him a few times a year), Stepfather is Vaxxed too... I didn't tell him not to get vaxxed, I told him to read about it for himself. He told me "I didn't want to die". He's in his 70s.

What a shame... I just truly think, that only God's people are able to see this...

I refused to wear a mask too.. I wore one once... asked My Father for Forgiveness, before I put it on... I KNEW it was wrong... and swore when I was done, I would never put one on again. I haven't.

I was refused Lab Tests to check my Electrolytes (of which I have had multiple hospitalizations for both low potassium and low sodium).

I also took a hard fall in Sept 2121, so hard, my hubby had to slowly lower my legs to the floor, each time I got up or laid down.. for 3 weeks this went on. My legs would spasm and my knees would involuntarily go to my chest. My doctor was concerned I fractured my hip, and wanted me to get an X-ray. No facility would take me without a mask. I finally found (and was Blessed to find) a Chiropractor who would X-ray me without a mask. I did not fracture my hip and this Chiro and his Son (Licensed Massage Therapist), had me off the walker, and moving about almost normally, in 2 weeks. 8 of my friends now go to this Chiro... we are all having dinner with him on Wednesday.

I want to Thank each and Every one of YOU, who stood up to any/all of it. Thank you for what you sacrificed...

Signed,

A Jane American

Reply

David Guerriero  January 23, 2023 12:51 pm

This is a great question, and I have to admit that it took me about a year for me to answer it for myself (I'm slow...). I should say that I don't have any specialized medical knowledge, I'm absolutely a layman when it comes to viruses or epidemics, or medicine in general. The first thing that made me suspicious was knowing that it normally takes ten years (maybe five if there's a hurry) to complete long-term safety testing of any new medications. These "vaccines" being not just available, but pushed, after a year's worth of testing gave me pause. That pause was reinforced by the understanding that a vaccine injury could be permanent, and debilitating. Further, believing that I'd have no legal recourse if I were injured gave me more pause. On the other side of the ledger, I wasn't seeing (with my own eyes) that the threat of the disease was so great. All the information on the “threat” was coming from other sources, that I already was skeptical of. That pause gave me the time and inclination to keep an open mind, to “wait-and-see.” I didn’t really do much active research on my own, just paid attention to what came across my view.

If you pay attention to your instincts, you can discern who’s being disingenuous in an argument, even if you don’t have much knowledge of the subject. Who’s answering questions directly; who’s changing the subject or avoiding answering questions. There’s a back-and-forth in any argument, and a point where one side just can’t give convincing answers, so resorts to obfuscation. I started to see that, almost entirely from one side. I could go on to talk about fifteen or twenty specific issues and instances of diversion and (frankly) outright lying, but others here have noted them already. Suffice to say, once you see the corruption, you cannot unsee it.

My concern now (and maybe a question for another day) is, with the knowledge I have now of the “vaccines’” dangers, what (if anything) can I say to those people I care about, who have already gotten vaccinated? I don’t think many of them are getting boosters, but I also don’t think many of them would heed anything I say counter to the establishment narrative.

 7  Reply

M K Barrera  January 23, 2023 1:08 pm

When this first started, I “heard” God telling me I was not going to get it. I just knew. I never wavered from that mind-set.

Nothing made sense. People lining up in their cars to get a swab pushed up their nose didn’t make sense. (I never got tested.) Restrictions in travel here locally (in Texas) didn’t make sense. When the elderly died in that nursing home in Seattle, it didn’t make sense. All I could think of was “Bill Gates lives there.” Masks didn’t make sense. (I did not wear one unless forced to do so.) School closures didn’t make sense. Mandates didn’t make sense. Closing businesses didn’t make sense. The “enforcement” at Walmart and everywhere else didn’t make sense. Restrictions on family gatherings didn’t make sense. The drama of people panting breathlessly about the shortage of PPE didn’t make sense. The fear-mongering was over the top, and I did not trust the drama surrounding all the deaths at that hospital in New York where they showed “corpses” wrapped in sheets because they ran out of body bags. I had a feeling that all the graves being dug on government owned property in NYC was staged. (I wonder how many of those graves really have bodies in them.) For a long time, I have been well aware of the goals of the “New World Order” and always distrust the media, technology and the government. I think that helped me a great deal because, instead of listening to main stream media, I sought out alternative voices and listened to doctors like Dr. Sherri Tenpenny and Dr.

Simone Gold, who were warning people very early on not to take the mRNA vaccines. I did not trust Dr. Fauci because I did a little research and found out he was closely associated with Bill Gates and Dr. Tedros A.G. (head of WHO). I could go on. It was a big help that one of my sisters is married to someone who works in the field of pharmaceutical research and he was adamant about not taking experimental vaccines. My other three siblings and their families (at least some of them) did take the vaccine at first, but I don't think they have gone back for boosters. I was most concerned about my children in the military. One retired, and one is still there. The spouse of one of my kids developed a fast-growing cancer not long after getting the vaccine, and I blame the vaccine; it appears that early treatment has been successful so far. Fortunately, that is the only harmful effect I know of in my family from the vaccine. I don't intend to EVER take another vaccine and am glad I have NEVER had the flu vaccine.

👍 6

↪
Reply

Joy Lucke ⌚ January 23, 2023 1:15 pm

I got Covid early...wasn't too bad, but enough for me to know that I had natural immunity. I lived in Africa and knew ivermectin is a wonder drug. That they were rejecting natural immunity and cheap drugs and how they treated any opposition was a red flag for me. Plus when Dr Christianne Northrop came out, then I knew something was up. She is such a preeminent physician who I trust. And how they treated Dr Gold and Dr. Stella Emanuel...outrageous!

👍 6

↪
Reply

Chuck ⌚ January 23, 2023 1:52 pm

I did not trust the news back then and including the CDC, WHO, etc. My first data find was in May 2021 – looked for FLU cases in 2020 vs COVID-19. The flu in MD literally disappeared from the charts. Why? FLU and COVID-19 symptoms are very the same, before mRNA engineered injections. Treatment drugs I know that are not harmful to man were being banned for use against COVID-19. I've used them as preventative treatment based on where I traveled. Eyes open to all that has been going on. I now do not trust the medical environment, governments, and main stream media. I do not trust the global elite leaders and their pawns. I trust in only One – the Lord who is sovereign over all.

👍 5

↪
Reply

Ree January 23, 2023 2:09 pm

I put my faith in Hydroxychloroquine and Ivermectin rather than the jab, and got through the Delta variant without problems in Sept. 2021. Now I consider myself more immune to getting it again than all the jab enthusiasts.

4

Reply

bob January 23, 2023 3:47 pm

I worked in construction all my life, (masks, DONT work) cant keep dust out, may help a little but Not for letting in vapors. so i never wore mask at all and kept on working, driving on the roads was a delight hardly anyone out, but being a electrician (considered essential work) i was out and about. also i watched the whole thing unfold and by the grace of God i saw that the whole thing was a Plan demic, so many people was listing to now professionals, and government to take take take the jab then making it mandatory the government never cared before about my health!!

5

Reply

Retired Army January 23, 2023 7:32 pm

I spent over 20. years in combat arms and learned how to fight and survive in a Biologically contaminated environment. MOPP4, which is Mission Oriented Protective Posture level 4. Among other things it requires the wearing of a form fitting, carbon filtered, rubber mask that fully seals around your face and includes two-way valves.

When the government pushed these paper and homemade cloth masks as protection, I knew they were lying and over my many years have come to distrust much of what comes out of DC.

When the “vaccine” came out I researched the one individual with 12 patters on the technology and he was advising against them. Then he was band. Red flag there! Where’s the public debate I though? Then they have to pay you to take the shot. What the hell was that? This and other issues, such as blank consent forms in the bottles culminated to a preponderance of evidence this was part of a PSYOP action. You can look that one up.

I will NEVER take a mNRA shot. They have been working on them for animals for over 6 years now and to the best of my knowledge to date the are still not safe for livestock. (sheepole excecuded)

👍 1

↩
Reply

ruth m burnard 🕒 January 23, 2023 7:35 pm

Red flags everywhere. Canada's bashing of AZ when Pfizer & Moderna had same issues in trials. Hubby and I held off and finally decided to go "Old School" homegrown vaccine out of the University of Saskatchewan with Vido InterVac. Signed up for the trials and were held in limbo for about 6 months. Over 600 volunteers but we made the first cut, were to be 54th in the lineup, just waiting for the call to the first screening which was underway. Then total silence. Many unanswered emails later, I find a article from the U of S saying the trials were stopped because Health Canada decided that it was unethical to have a placebo group. ??? Really... Wow, if it wasn't for placebo groups would we have any vaccines or drugs? Vido InterVac continued the trials in Uganda, because... well that is ethical. We were never notified. Meanwhile, hubby getting frequent tests in order to hold down his Federal regulated job. Then we were not allowed to fly, ride a train or bus in our own country. The flags are no longer red, they are blood red.

👍 2

↩
Reply

Jo Anne Torkildson 🕒 January 23, 2023 7:39 pm

My husband has always had the yearly flu shots and also has recommended them, gave me a hard time because I didn't want the flu shot, ever. When the Covid shot first came out, he was inclined to get it. We are both in our early 70's and in good health. I was hesitant and so started to do research.

Early on, we watched a video from Dr. Lee Merrick (may be misspelled) talking about the previous animal testing done with mRNA technology. We learned that those tests had been a dismal failure due to MANY unintended consequences. She also predicted the possibility of massive issues coming about 2 years after the mass vaccinations. She was certainly correct. My husband started doing his research, and paying attention to information other concerned friends were sending him, and he decided it was a bad idea, as did I. We listened to Dr. Gold, Dr. Malone, Dr. McCollough. Became angry that there was no dialogue permitted and opposing views were silenced. Something was obviously wrong.

I was going to a physical therapist at the time. She was strongly in favor of the shot, said she had a cousin who is a virologist and he was heavily promoting it for everyone. The next time I went to her, she was starting to see the same information we were, and ended up being totally against the shot too. Did not get it herself. Her cousin disowned her, for all practical purposes.

We became more and more convinced there was another agenda at work besides our well-being. We discussed with good friends and found there was much resistance and others refusing the jab, but no one was talking about it openly. We received much ridicule and fear from family and friends who bought the whole thing, attempting to get us to change our minds.

I went to my doctor and requested ivermectin and hydroxychloroquin, and was told that was not going to happen, and that it would be extremely harmful to me if I were to take those drugs, they had a 21% chance of causing heart issues (pretty ironic, eh?). Our neighbors turned us onto a naturopathic doctor in a nearby town who was going against the narrative, and would prescribe those drugs for us. He did that, and more. Told us how to protect ourselves with supplements & vitamins, how to have an oxygen generator in our home, and other things to do when we got sick in order to at all costs stay out of the hospital.

Then we had a friend who waited too long to get help, and did end up in the hospital. His family requested IN WRITING that he not receive treatment with Remdesivir. They gave it to him anyway because they said once someone checked into the hospital, they were going to do their protocol, and the patient (and family) had no say. He died a couple of days later from kidney failure.

That did it for us. It had become obvious even early that it was all about the money, and not about the health of the people. Thankfully we live in a red area of Colorado and the mandates about masking and staying home ended earlier than elsewhere. We resumed our normal life as much as possible, met with friends, went to work, etc. Did not catch Covid until this past August, 2022. It was fairly mild for me, went to my husband's lungs with pneumonia. Again our naturopathic doc came to the rescue with medications that took care of it. Now we have the immunity. We have never been fearful of being severely injured or dying from Covid. Can't say that about the jab.

We are so very glad we resisted the tyrannical push to get the shot. We will continue to do so. And will never get flu shots again. Makes us doubt anything the medical profession tells us now, which is unfortunate. But they have been shown to be untrustworthy. Not to mention all government health agencies. And we are doubting other "vaccinations".

I listened to my docs in the past and got the shingles shots (1 in the past, supposed 60% effective), and then took another 2 shots when they came out with the updated "more effective" version, supposed to up it to 96% efficiency. Now 2 years later I have a nasty case of shingles. Many of my friends have also had shingles. Every single one who has, has also had all 3 shingles shots. Impossible to believe we are all in the 4% group that it doesn't work for.

This propaganda has been so harmful to our country and the whole world. I don't know if trust in the institutions can ever be restored.

👍 5

↪
Reply

L. J. McMillan © January 26, 2023 12:37 am

↪ Reply to Jo Anne Torkildson

I took the Zostavax (12/2015) vaccine, followed one month later by my first of many Shingles outbreaks that continue to this day.

In response to medical advice in 5/2018, I took the 2-shot Shingrix vaccine in hopes of remission or dormancy. Nope, the frequency of outbreaks only increased!

Needless to say, I didn't take a COVID-19 shot due to my initial suspicions, some of which you describe, & diligent research early on. Nor do I trust Flu vaccines any longer. Even at 73 w/ COPD, I feel safer.

👍 0

↪
Reply

Novaccines Formeever © January 23, 2023 7:39 pm

I didn't take it because things weren't adding up from the whole start of the "event" to the research into the vaccines, to the behavior of clowns masquerading as "leaders." It helped to have been part of the fakery back when the military mandated the anthrax vaccine which didn't help against airborne anthrax so what was the point? Oh some admiral retired and went to work for a failing vaccine company to turn it around and the next thing you know anthrax was mandated in the military and the company turned around – the only one that made the anthrax vaccine in the U.S. at the time that I was aware of... how convenient eh? Then the foolishness with the avian flu around the end of the 2000's decade and you knew the clowns were using fear to make money. Did they ever isolate the COVID whatever properly? Behavior suggests they did not. Lie's abounding throughout COVID – why is Fauci still walking around collecting a paycheck? Why is Bill Gates still around? And on we could go. At this time in the lull they're creating the legal framework for their next pandemic so they can lock down quickly and attack the unvaccinated so don't think for a minute they have slowed down at all. They won't stop until the people rise up and arrest them, hold a world-wide people's court and properly hang them for any guilty verdicts. From sea-to-shining-sea we-the-people should leave no stone unturned to hold accountable all the clowns throughout the world that took part. None of them will escape pending judgment regardless, but we-the-people should gather together by the tens of millions and do what needs to be done to stop this evil. Based on my research I wouldn't touch any vaccine and I would be highly suspicious of the entire medical paradigm as it currently is administered. I've seen enough of the lies, deception, and outright evil being inflicted even today on those who don't have the time to research. It's time for accountability. Nuremberg 2.0 babyyyyy!

 Reply

Danny  January 24, 2023 8:58 am

I have been reading some of these answers and I am glad that there are so many people that gave such great comments. My answer is quite simple actually.

1. The Government has no right to tell me or any of my family what they should be doing Medically.
2. I listen to Steve Bannons War Room and have been able to learn from many of his guests that are in the Medical profession. So grateful for all the info.
3. Also... so sad to say, but... I have almost no trust in my Government anymore.

 Reply

Karl Landgren  January 24, 2023 10:01 am

I've been fully immunized against tyranny since birth.

 Reply

druid144  January 24, 2023 1:14 pm

Avoiding the jab – a view from the UK

There, but for the grace of God ...

Looking back, I now realise that jab hesitancy was mostly luck and some foresight.

Luck because I am retired and had no employer to please. Luck also that for the last 20 years I have avoided the flu jab and been ok. On the rare occasions I did succumb to jab or nose squirt, I had a really bad bout of flu. So when this came along I was already resolved to never have another flu jab.

Foresight that I could not believe that a medicines so rushed that it was classified as experimental, could be really safe. My mantra was 'I'll wait until all the trials finished in 2023/4.' Also I had been following dissident sites since the early day of the Global Warming scares. This taught me that most official 'consensus' was bunkum. They now showed me that no mRNA vaccine trial had yet turned out well for the lab rats. (Thanks J Delingpole, Jo Nova and others. I owe you guys big time.)

So I already had a well trained immune response to all the hype. What has really surprised and gratified me is that none of my immediate family – wife, children, even sister in law refused to take it. Perhaps living in the deprived remnants of a once flourishing coal mining industry does give people a very realistic view of government ‘help’ programs.

 Last edited 2 days ago by druid144

 1  Reply

Joann Stump  January 24, 2023 4:57 pm

I did my research on the Covid vaccine early. I tried to share the information on Facebook but like others was censored which was the reason I left that sight for good. I did my best to warn family and friends and urged them not to take those shots. I was successful with some and thank the Lord also with my husband and my sons. I felt my purpose was to save lives and I feel like I did just that. For such a time as this! Yes, got a lot of comments about my wearing a tin foil hat, but not anymore. Now, I try and pass on any information I find on helping those people who did get the shot. There are a lot in fear as the truth is finally getting out. Not a time to gloat but a time to help.

 2  Reply

GINGER  January 24, 2023 5:34 pm

A voice reverberating from the radio, NPR saying “The vaccine will turn your body into a vaccine manufacturing factory!” I blurt out a loud “WHAT?! NO!” That was terrifying to hear. Fast forward it turns out to be a devastating fact.

My gut, my heart, my inner voice all said no early on, even many years before I had a loud no for vaccines in general. What have we been doing to our most vulnerable, our children and our fur babies with these insane vaccine, for-profit schedules? The current childhood vaccines schedule is 78. Seventy Eight shots in their tiny little bodies.

Absolutely every one, every direction around me was ‘get the shot’.

I came close when an elder, a holistic friend of mine sat me down and said “How are you going to reopen your business, pay your mortgage, support yourself? We all will need to get the vaccine. It is inevitable. This is a terrible disease. It is a pandemic.” I came close to getting it. But then....the same person redeemed themselves, they approached me again and said ‘Hold on!! There is a link I want you to see that my sister shared with me.’ It was The Five Docs, Critical Thinking episode (aka part of the Disinformation Dozen). I listened to one episode and I was so profoundly solid in my decision to not get the shot NO MATTER WHAT. This was in the early days before the tsunami of death and harm we know of now. Their message was only a concern and warning at that point. But finally I had some 'peers' speaking some Truth. Finally.

I still haven't reopened my business due to shedding and touch concerns. I had to fire a $1500 a month client who would not stop harassing me about getting vaccinated. I missed my father's ashes being spread (I believe the shot ended his life). I lost all my clients, all of my friends, and my family ...when I stood up for our 5 year and 2 year old. I had tried for a year to get through to various family members because I knew the 'baby and boosters were coming' and that detox was needed. No one would listened, not my sister cousins, aunts. People blocked me, unfriended, cussed and shamed me.

I am now in a new area with more like-minded people and finding a new path to rebuild my life.

 Last edited 2 days ago by GINGER

 3

 Reply

Lake Erie granny  January 24, 2023 6:40 pm

I became suspicious after reading the mechanism of action of the vaccine, early on. My body would make spike proteins?! WTH?!

 1

 Reply

MichaelBH29D  January 24, 2023 6:44 pm

I was one of the fortunate few who had buffers in place that helped me deflect- and eventually stand- against the pressure to get the jab, from work, family, friends, and all the pleas and threats from the autocracy and their tame dogs in the media.

I was raised by two contrarians to be one. Born in Texas, I always thought that I should have been a Missourian from that "Show Me" State: by rearing, education, reading and life experience I was nurtured to be a skeptic.

No matter; I was as brainwashed as any of my contemporaries: the Enemy that I am now aware of has been Incredibly skilled at the art of the Mindfk, possibly for Centuries.

When N. Pelosi slow walked the Articles of Impeachment to the Senate, President DJT shook hands with XI on their Trade Agreement, and Patient

Zero landed at SEA with Covid from China- all on the same exact day, January 15th, 2020- I was already aware that there were no coincidences to anything, thanks to Q and all whom I was following.

That was one buffer.

When we got the lockdowns and mask mandates to slow the spread of Covid, I was already taking the vitamins I needed to be using to block the bioweapon by literal accident (previous years' Keto regimens). Healthy, with none of the co-morbidities except perhaps the age, I was given permission by a generous boss to just stay home and get paid during the second quarter of 2020.

Second buffer.

Staying home did not mean unproductivity for me; we got gardens in and stuff done- prepped, as it were. Since most of my family could only be in touch by phone, I was spared the face-to-face pressures of their getting the vax- and the persistent ones I simply hung up on. Frustrating for them then, they are now getting the message that they made the mistake. . . Estrangement for me was not that much of a burden.

Third buffer.

When I was called back to the job, my enlightened boss provided us with a weekly spit antigen test in lieu of getting jabbed; he told the entire jobforce that he wouldn't force the vax- a gigantic boon to me as I had already resolved to lose the job rather than my future. By then I had researched all I could and my conclusions were that the shots were no more trustworthy than the liars pushing them.

Fourth buffer.

The biggest buffer has been the information that has been revealed since Trump came down the escalator in 2015. If there is ONE THING that President Trump has given Us is the Priceless Gift of Knowledge.

It literally has Trumped all of the Enemy's ploys, no matter how sophisticated they have been.

It is difficult to perceive- and accept- Truth in all this we have experienced.

The Lies are somehow easier to perceive by the inconsistencies they contain. I look for the Liars now- and quit listening to them. The "Truth" I treat as a hypothesis, subject to much confirmation from many sources before believing.

I've heard some called Heroes for their sacrifice of their jobs, careers, certifications and their family's circumstances over the Vax. I agree. What they have endured is something that must be rectified somehow, someday. And the perpetrators must receive their reckoning as well.

I can't count myself as one of those Heros. I was simply more fortunate than they not to have to take that stand.

Yet.

Puakea  January 24, 2023 7:19 pm

Aloha.

Early on the blatant disregard of Constitutional freedoms and corruption of deep state opposition, coupled with “my body my choice, and gut feeling made my decision. I don't vaccinate anyway so wasn't going to. Never tested nor wear a mask. I'm just that much of a believer in personal freedom.

Alesia G Mathis  January 24, 2023 8:50 pm

Neither my husband, myself, nor my children or grandchildren took the vaccine. My husband and I are both veterinarians and are well versed on the subject of herd health, the progression of novel respiratory virus in a population over time to become less virulent and the abysmal failure of mRNA vaccines in recent past. In my career, I have witnessed cats die years post FeLV vaccine of Fibrosarcoma as a sequelae to vaccination. All of this certainly made me suspicious of this sudden trust in a mRNA vaccine produced in record time.

I will never forget flipping through television channels the fall prior to the new Cover 19 outbreak, only to see the spectacle of all of Hollywood's superstars in there designer evening wear at an award ceremony, roiling up their sleeves while characters in white coats ran out into the audience to give the smiling enthusiastic celebrities their flu vaccines! I looked at my husband and said, OMG, they are about to start pushing to mandate vaccines. I know this sounds like I am overly paranoid but it was a bizarre display and there seems to be an odd record of Hollywood's productions foreshadowing things to come. Next thing I know we are being bribed by our government to get vaccinated with doughnuts, French fries, and lottery tickets as incentives. Why not just debate the merits of the vaccine? Why would scientific debate be so viciously attacked and suppressed? When did the science I love change from trying to disprove your own hypothesis in a search for truth to you can no longer question the likes of an evil hobbit like Fauci!? Small businesses are closed while large businesses are open, cash is suddenly bad, bag boys can bag your groceries but teachers can't teach, non vulnerable populations are locked up while nursing homes in New York invite in the sick !! Dear God, why would anyone get the vaccine?

Sadly, my own family (siblings) wouldn't listen to me, the only one in the family with a medical degree!. It makes me sad because I fear for their health. I was upset because these intelligent individuals I love seemed incapable of critical thinking but we remain loving and respectful of one another. It also makes me sad they aren't willing to discuss this situation but I refuse to be divided from my family.

 3  Reply

chuckie  January 24, 2023 10:11 pm

i have read and read and read through these comments, and i have not seen one mention of the main reason i am not bothered by covid and will not take the vax.....

this crap was first introduced to us a SARS-covid 2.....SARS-covid 1 spread through the world in 2003-2004....that crap nearly killed me, six degrees of fever is NO FUN.....i was home alone, husband working out of town, one son away at college, the other away in iraq.....slept on the couch in front of the tv with war coverage turned on, probably logged 20 hours awake the whole week.....

my body killed that crap off all by itself.....i'm confident it remembers how.....

 1  Reply

Brad Kozak  January 25, 2023 3:23 pm

From the get-go, I was reluctant to trust the vaccine. Fast-tracking it, in the face of the media telling us this was apocalyptic, was probably a noble thing. But my suspicions were aroused, not just because it was an untested vaccine, but because it was designed to fundamentally alter our RNA. Try that without testing first? No thanks. But then the Democrats told everyone NOT to trust any meds that Trump was behind – until Biden took office, when it was the hottest thing since sliced bread.

I opted to not take the jab. I found a way to deal with those who asked – I told them I was part of the “control group,” which, oddly, satisfied them. My wife was not so lucky. Because she has several co-morbidities and watched TV news endlessly, she was convinced to take the first dose and the booster. It feels now like a sword of Damocles, hanging over her head.

I believe Trump acted upon the best info he had. But it is obvious to anyone who pays attention, that Fauci and his cohorts have brought this scourge upon us, and are profiting from it, financially.

I hope the truth does come out, and those that lied to us are brought to justice.

Reply

Susan Baker  January 25, 2023 5:52 pm

I clicked my keys to alternative sites to read the research for myself. I paid attention to the high 99.95-99 recovery rate for Covid and the treatments that were already proving successful as early as April-May 2020. When treatments were banned and respectable doctors were censored and threatened with loss of licenses, I took note and thought...wait, what country do I live in? When I used common sense, logic, history, good science and governing principles, I knew a con was being perpetrated on the global public. It was a con that projects its own sins and crimes onto the innocent truth tellers. The more things change...

I also knew the American founders had warned about giving up liberty for safety. God-given liberty to use for good not evil. I tracked the deception and with tools available to thinking people (see the above) I did not consider fear and deception to be morally superior despite the ads for adopting such cowardice. The Bible was also clear about using discernment to know good from evil and if free Americans were not clear on that, then they had drifted off course. I chose not to follow.

Those are just some reasons that I didn't fall for the Covid scare and the gene therapy jab propaganda with accompanying coercion...another clue to mischief. None of this is that difficult...it only appears so. You were not made to be used, toyed with and destroyed.

Reply

Steve  January 26, 2023 12:42 am

I created the following list back in December of 2021. Since then servere gaps have grown and remain with many friends and family members who seem to think everything is just fine and the jabs are safe and effective – but they also don't understand why I can say with a straight face we are in the middle of WWIII. My wife and I continue to follow the welcome advice from those who actually meet with and treat covid patients and offer advice as to how to avoid getting covid, which neither of us have gotten, but of course we have not been tested either — so who knows. Thank you to the true warriors who are fighting to save lives, end the jabs, and preserve our Constitutional rights and liberties. If I took the additional time, I expect the following list would be at least twice as long.

1 Untested, ineffective human trial for gene therapy

- 2 Vaccine is not working – vaxxed getting covid
- 3 Very Low chance of getting it
- 4 New Untested mRNA technology
- 5 Spike proteins throughout body
- 6 Significant death and harm from the shots
- 7 Definition of vaccinated – 2 weeks after shots
- 8 Die from covid vs with covid – hospital payments
- 9 Natural Immunity Far Stronger
- 10 PCR Test Not Accurate – can be manipulated
- 11 Mask are ineffective & create stress
- 12 Mask mandates are irrational – restaurants
- 13 Emergency Use Authorization
- 14 Ivermectin / Hydroxy / Quercetin / Zinc
- 15 Uttar Pradesh & Japan
- 16 Pfizer won't sell without immunity
- 17 Nazi Germany – Media Control
- 18 Covid is a bio weapon
- 19 Nuremburg Trials
- 20 Bill Gates – eugenicist / population reduction / WHO
- 21 Virus of Stupidity & Fear
- 22 Constitution & Freedom of Choice

Sorry to add to the length of this note — but here is an analogy I shared with some family members in May 2022, which may be helpful to readers — maybe not:

When faced with needing or wanting to acquire an automobile, in some cases it is a very quick decision made from an emotional standpoint – ‘I really want that car.’ Or perhaps a more detailed, thoughtful and researched decision based on ones needs and financial capabilities. Or it could be a decision based on expediency – ‘Since I can’t afford to live close enough to my job such that I can ride a bike, walk or take public transportation, I need to quickly find a cheap but adequate car to satisfy my needs.’

Regardless of what is creating a real need or mere desire for a car, or the pathway taken to acquire one, it is highly likely that in a majority of cases the decision is likely influenced by marketing and advertising designed to make you think you will be so much happier, better, and safer when you are behind the steering wheel of this car – and your friends will be impressed.

I could well be wrong, but I believe the majority of people who have done their homework prior to purchasing a car, live with their decision and rarely look back to second guess if they have made a good choice. Nobody likes to think they made a bad or stupid decision.

While I’m sure you get the point that similarities can be drawn between buying a car and accepting the shot, there are also some very key differences that I believe warrant consideration:

1. Many automobile choices are advertised and available, while there are only a few covid choices advertised, deemed acceptable by the government, and are being forced on us.
2. Safety testing data is made available for automobiles but not for the covid vaccines.
3. Fuel efficiency is tested and reported for cars however accurate vaccine efficacy data is not deemed necessary by the government.
4. You can take a car out for a test drive – not a vaccine.
5. I have not heard of a case where google, facebook, twitter, and legacy media have censored anyone for having said anything derogatory about a car that has been found to have safety issues, yet it is being done every day on topics related to the shots.
6. I am not aware of any automobile manufacturers that have ever been given a free indemnification pass for any accidents and deaths caused by their vehicles, however it's my understanding that the shots will only be made available to those countries who agree to provide full indemnification, despite the millions of deaths and adverse effects that have been directly related to the shots.
7. “Lemon laws” in the U.S. are in place to protect consumers who believe they have been sold a car that does not live up to the manufacturer's warranty claims of being defect-free and reliable for daily transportation. Not only do the shots not have any warranty, but the manufacturers get total immunity against any claims brought by those who have been harmed, or by family members of those who have died.
8. Under U.S. laws based on the Constitution and Bill of Rights, you currently have the right to decide if you want to purchase some form of transportation, and what type is best for you. Not true in the handling of covid. The majority of your freedoms and legal rights relative to health, religion, and speech are not only being totally ignored, but they are also being severely trampled on.

I'm sure if I spent more time considering this analogy I could come up with many more such anomalies, but it's too infuriating to continue.

Bob Dunham  January 26, 2023 11:57 am

The “Jab” doesn't stop individuals from contracting the virus, it does not stop an individual from spreading the virus. The virus is not near as deadly as the government mandates, and repeated “jabs” of substances that our body does not really like! There are way too many side effects that are way more deadly than the virus itself. Only the government can screw something like this up to the extent they did.

 1  Reply

« Previous 1 ... 51 52 53

PRAYER REQUESTS

SUPPORT THE TREEHOUSE

Donate

- Support The Treehouse -

$5 $10 $15 Other

EMAIL SIGN-UP

Click here for e-mail delivery!

CATEGORIES

Select Category

RECENT COMMENTS

logboom on On Eve of RNC Election, Ron DeSantis Predictably Endorses Harmeet Dhillon for RNC Chair

James Felter on Tucker Carlson Discusses Pfizer Effort to Recreate Modified COVID Viruses Under Term “Directed Evolution”

Wondering999 on Tucker Carlson Discusses Pfizer Effort to Recreate Modified COVID Viruses Under Term “Directed Evolution”

Joe 12 pack on Friday January 27th – Open Thread

Winston on January 27th – 2023 Presidential Politics – Resistance Day 738

RECENT POSTS

January 27th – 2023 Presidential Politics – Resistance Day 738 January 27, 2023

Friday January 27th – Open Thread January 27, 2023

Tucker Carlson Discusses Pfizer Effort to Recreate Modified COVID Viruses Under Term “Directed Evolution” January 26, 2023

On Eve of RNC Election, Ron DeSantis Predictably Endorses Harmeet Dhillon for RNC Chair January 26, 2023

Here’s Why the Big Club and People Managing Ron DeSantis Hate Donald Trump January 26, 2023

Retired Col. Douglas MacGregor Discusses Status of Ukraine War and Background of Biden Sending Abram M-1 Tanks January 26, 2023

HISTORICAL CAMPFIRE CONVERSATIONS

Select Month

