The Truth About Covid and Government Mind Control

Original Content

By Chris Martenson on March 9, 2023

This is the Second in a three-part series, which I have decided to make public and freely available. Part I explores the UK "Lockdown Files" which are a trove of text messages between and among UK health authorities revealing a startling pattern of using scare tactics to control the populace. Part II then explores how these files reveal more about the psychological operations waged against UK citizens, as well as the rest of us, with devastating results. Part III gets dark and shows the "Midazolam Murders" which saw wildly inappropriate drug delivery policies contributing to if not causing the deaths of many people within the UK hospital and care home systems.

In part I, we covered The Lockdown Files, which exposed the depths to which UK health officials sank in order to scare people into compliance.

But they had help. Lots of help, mainly from the psychological nudge unit at the UK Institute for Government's Behavioral Insights Team, and from SAGE, or the Scientific Advisory Group for Emergencies.

Their goals are always the same; to get a reluctant populace to go along with whatever the government has schemed up, no questions asked.

These nudge units' own behaviors are rooted in two things;

1. the certainty that the government has the right answers and
2. an unspoken rule to never look back and see how often that wasn't the case.

For instance, here's a public document from SAGE outlining how they might go about nudging people to comply with social distancing rules. Never mind that there was zero science behind the 6-foot rule, nor any nuance around whether that distance was indoors in a poorly ventilated environment or outdoors. None of those details mattered. What mattered was getting people to comply.

Options for increasing adherence to social distancing measures

22nd March 2020

Persuasion

2. Perceived threat: A substantial number of people still do not feel sufficiently personally threatened; it could be that they are reassured by the low death rate in their demographic group (8), although levels of concern may be rising (9). Having a good understanding of the risk has been found to be positively associated with adoption of COVID-19 social distancing measures in Hong Kong (10). The perceived level of personal threat needs to be increased among those who are complacent, using hard-hitting emotional messaging. To be effective this must also empower people by making clear the actions they can take to reduce the threat (11).
3. Responsibility to others: There seems to be insufficient understanding of, or feelings of responsibility about, people's role in transmitting the infection to others. This may have resulted in part from messaging around the low level of risk to most people and talk of the desirability of building 'herd immunity'. Messaging needs to emphasise and explain the duty to protect others (12, 13).
4. Positive messaging around actions: People need to see self-protective actions in positive terms and feel confident that they will be effective. Individuals also need to understand that the survival of the severely ill will be increased by the capacity of the health care system, which in turn will be increased by reducing the rise in infections now. Messaging about actions need to be framed positively in terms of protecting oneself and the community, and increase confidence that they will be effective (14).
5. Tailoring: Some people will be more persuaded by appeals to play by the rules, some by duty to the community, and some to personal risk (13). All these different approaches are needed. The messaging also needs to take account of the realities of different people's lives. Messaging needs to take account of the different motivational levers and circumstances of different people (15).

As bad as the UK was, Australia went overboard to an exceptional degree with Australian politicians being especially vile and nasty about their use of shaming and coercion and othering to accomplish the aims of locking people down and/or getting them vaccinated.

In the US, we just found out this morning from the latest Matt Taibbi Twitterfiles release, that various agencies conspired to even block completely true posts about vaccine injuries because those might have fueled 'vaccine hesitancy.'

CDC in one week

- True content which might promote vaccine hesitancy
 - Viral posts of individuals expressing vaccine hesitancy, or stories of true vaccine side effects. This content is not clearly mis or disinformation, but it may be malinformation (exaggerated or misleading). Also included in this bucket are often true posts which could fuel hesitancy, such as individual countries banning certain vaccines.
 - Ex: News article and posts about a Central NY school district closing

Trapped In British Columbia

Just a quick comment. Our Public Health Officer Bonnie Henry whom we call Bonnie Umbridge when being cynical, announced yesterday that all British Columbians need to get their boosters now and that there will be another for the fall. She stated again that the unvaxxed are at “greater risk” yada yada. And yet the vaxxed people are dying everywhere. No-one can say they don’t know many people who have died or become gravely ill this past year – many. We personally have lost count of the injured, dying or dead in our circles. But still Bonnie continues to spew her garbage. A lot of mask wearing people abound here on Vancouver Island and they get their news from “approved sources”. No-one holds her to account. BC is the last province in Canada to hold with this Ministry of Magic propaganda but we are all forced to live it. I know this is off topic. It is simply so frustrating. Thank you for your episodes. They are very helpful.

Just went down, funds all the non publicly traded tech companies, all these start ups are going to have a hard time making payroll Monday. Looks like this time it will be the tech sector leading the collapse rather than the real estate market, thats where all the layoff started.

Chris has lamented a few times about needing a better word for “elites”. Since they are self appointed, “elitist” is more appropriate and doesn’t grant them the high ground. I prefer the more accurate “parasite”

Guilt, Hah!

Imagine how foolish you'll feel when you get vaccinated and spread covid-19 to someone you care about anyway (because the vaccine doesn't stop the spread) and maybe even suffer a significant vaccine injury.

I Have Been An Anti-Vaxer Since 1986/87

Hello All,

My subject line kind of says it all. I am very proud to be one. I realized that the Germ Theory was totally wrong way back then. I was not fooled by this one either...never will be. Virology is a TOTAL FRAUD.

I know that there are others that frequent this web-site that also know this TRUTH. VIRUES DO NOT EXSIST. Period. Full stop, as Chris is fond of saying.

I also stopped believing in Santa Claus when I grew up. I know it is hard to do, to accept this truth but it is the only way to prevent what was done to our Western Civilization from happening again. It is time for all of you to grow up too. Thank you.

I've got to say that viruses do indeed exist. Viruses aren't affected by antibiotics due to how they interfere with replicatation and we have to rely on other forms of treatment such as bolstering the immune system. Simple things like getting your proper nutrition and vitamins should be patently obvious as key strategies to help.

Vaccines have worked wonders in the past on planet-wide scourges, we know that because we have the photos of how bad polio was.. all those kids in iron lungs. The 'Vaxx' being administered for C19 is nothing like the well studied, understood, and proven technologies with decades-long research which backed up actually effective cures.

I think a lot of people really just have no idea of the 'how' behind most of how everything in the world works and our own misunderstandings of key components leads us to very different conclusions. Viruses definitely exist and I wish this current struggle was only with a virus.

<https://odysee.com/@MaajidNawaz:d/38RadicalFull:f>

And then these by Jerm over on Jermwarfare.com

<https://jermwarfare.com/conversations/tom-cowan-immune-system>

In terms of the discourse around viruses and germs in general, I (Jerm) have had numerous conversations with great thinkers including Sam Bailey and her husband Mark on their medical journeys;Andrew Kaufman on virus isolation;David Rasnick on HIV not existing and rethinking cancer;Anthony Brink on why the former South African president was right about HIV;Steve Falconer on the death of Germ Theory;Mike Donio on pharmaceutical propaganda; andMike Stone on questioning the entire field of virology. A lot of folks talk about science and doing the real science. But in the pseudo scientific world of virology the science has NEVER been done. No one has ever isolated a virus. The artistic pictures of the viruses that Chris and others use are all just imaginary depictions of what artists think they look like.

You all keep saying that there are only two possibilities for the origin of Sars Cov II. Either it came from nature or it came from a lab. Well there's a 3rd and that is it doesn't exist at all. The sequences that you all go off of are computer generated using a computer program so in that respect it did come from a lab but a COMPUTER LAB.

I'm in camp "viruses do exist but most vaccines aren't worth it and the polio shot is a hot mess."

Bad stuff happened and was labeled as polio...but maybe it was the DDT being sprayed on kids. Maybe part of the reason it "went away" was that they renamed it all something else. And then there's the problem with the bad batch that killed and injured people. And that RSV came from contaminated monkey cells used for the polio shot. And that pretty much every case of polio now is actually the vaccine type.

I've listened to Kaufman and Cowan. I find them interesting on other things, but highly unconvincing on the subject of viruses.

Hi Guinifyr,

Have you watched yet "The End of Germ Theory"? No virus has EVER been isolated. If you have watched it then you know that the real scientific experiments done in 1918 to make healthy persons sick with the "Spanish Flu" were totally unsuccessful. Nobody got sick no matter what method they tried to make the test subjects sick. That's proof that the germ theory is incorrect. And if you haven't seen it then get back to me when you do. Otherwise, you just don't know of what you are speaking.

And this interviewee explains it very well. Please watch/listen to it. Thank you.

See Dr. Zach Bush for interesting take (new to me, anyway) on viruses. For example:

“The warrior mentality has also led to a mischaracterization of the innate immune system where it is often described as a protective barrier separating us from the perceived threats of nature. When you consider that over half of the human genome is of viral genetic origin, you have to wonder how significant is this threat and is there even a threat at all. Our ability to interact with nature at a biological level is paramount to our survival. The innate immune system is not fighting against nature, it’s an intelligent, dynamic, living mechanism connecting us to nature and keeping us in a balanced relationship with nature by promoting biodiversity— not eliminating it. We have to coexist with the microorganisms that surround us and it’s the innate immune system via the gut microbiome that assures balance between protection and adaptation.”

Did Chris Martenson Discover A Problem Worse Than Tyrants, Broken Vaccines And Vaccine Harms?

As much as I lament the harms brought about by the Covid-19 panic, I think Chris may have found a greater harm.

First a short story.

Some of you may have heard of "dynamite fishing". In this method, a stick of dynamite is lit, timed for how long it will take to explode, then thrown into the water. The explosion concusses the heck out of the fish and they float to the surface. If dynamite was cheap, I could imagine there would be no fish left anywhere if this method caught on.

Did the world just witness the biggest example of dynamite fishing for people? If yes, then as much as we debate the risks of social media, bots, trolls, and the like, we may be in for a world where 1984 looks like and upgrade. I wonder if these behavioral specialists will become the new method of amping up marketing for not just governments, but anyone – ANYONE.

The cascaded consequences of such a world would likely be worse than nuclear fallout.

I imagine we can try to find some method for tracking the number of job postings soliciting such persons and track them over time to see if that's where we are going.

May it never be.

The effects of using these weaponized psyops will become apparent over the years.

Many have lost families, friends, colleagues, lovers, parents and children over this.

That toll will ripple through the years. For some there will be no return.

Like for poor Sam Harris, I suspect.

During the pandemic, we witnessed the birth of a new religion of contrarianism and conspiracy thinking—the first sacrament of which is to ‘do your own research.’ The problem is that very few people are qualified to do this research. And the result is a society driven by strongly-held, unfounded opinions on everything from vaccine safety to the war in Ukraine.

SAM HARRIS

I submit to you the “nudgers” all consider themselves good people, trying to do good things. But in reality, they were like Monkeys with Machineguns.

They could not fully appreciate the weapon in their hands. It was beyond their cortical depth.

Sorry Sam. Shot kills more than it saves. That's from Pfizer's own clinical trial data. Doesn't take much of a "qualification" to look at the all cause mortality data and say – gosh, if I have a greater chance of dying from the shot than I do with salt water – I think I'll pick the salt water thanks.

He's a "trust the experts" guy, it seems. Of course if bad people can corrupt the "experts", they can engage in mass murder with Sam none-the-wiser.

The focus grouped, emotionally targeted messaging has been around for quite some time. Along with several other forms of nudging and persuasion.

Request For A Future Chris Article

Chris how about delving into the supposed claim that TPTB plan on injecting our food source with mRNA tech? That includes animals as well as fruits and vegetables.

It would be reassuring to know since this topic is right in your wheelhouse, as to the implications if this turns out to be true. Will we potentially have the same health risks as those who took the CV1984 injections?

Chris Martenson (@cmartenson) ● Online The Author

 Reply to Rodster  3 days ago

Well, that kind of depends on what the mRNA tech is aiming to do. Of course, we have mRNA in every living cell in our bodies.

What we didn't have before was mRNA churning out full-length spike proteins that had been fashioned via a quite unnatural methyl pseudouridine, codon-optimized pathway.

That should never have been done.

The rest I'll have to take on a case-by-case basis but my default setting is "we sure as hell don't need any of that."

Nature is plenty. Let's figure out how to work with her.

RE: Perceived Threat

I love the part where it mentions they have to enact Defcon 5 because people just don't feel threatened by the low death count. Orly?

Could it be that, turned out to be the case anyway? The thing that bugs me about the entire Covid 1984 scam-demic is that there were reports that the CDC was counting Covid deaths even if you died in a head-on collision. If you tested positive you were a Covid statistic. If you were killed by a wild animal and you tested positive, you were a CV1984 statistic.

What really gets me is that the test the CDC approved were beyond unreliable. I never tested positive for CV1984 but my doctor refused to see me at the height of the hysteria because I had a bad cold and I was told, that was CV19.

So I got tested and yup, NEG result.

Tests were beyond crap... Pretty clear I had caught Omicron 6 weeks later I was totally fine HOWEVER...

I needed to a recent negative test to attend a concert my wife wanted to go to since we didnt have compliance cards... So I took 2 tests same day because the 1st pharmacy said they were backlogged and results may be late... so i booked again at the same major pharmacy different location... 1 came back Positive?, 2nd came back Negative?.... guess I got over it from 6 weeks back and was all cured in an hour between the drive between pharmacies?.

Bigger tell.... I also made an testing appointment for my wife, same pharmacy same day.... after my 1st came back Positive .. she said wait.. mine will come back positive too...

I said how do you know?.. she said because the pharmacist turned their head away and I never put it in my nose at all, I took the the sterile swab broke it and put it in the tube and i told them i swabbed it in my nose.

She said this is all a BS money laundering scam you just wait.. no way it could be positive unless they are intentionally lying.... Guess what? hers came back positive too... so explain that one?

Test results were worst than meaningless.. they were either random or manufactured..... full stop....MAYBE if the jabs uptake was slowing down? hmmm... bump up the positive test rates to drive the fear...
