Executive summary

You can't have the vast majority of your 4,000 patients get significantly worse after a "safe and effective" intervention.

That's not safe.

The COVID vaccine should never have been approved.

Introduction

Watch this video I took of her today:

Suzanne Gazda MD is a neurologist with 4,000 patients. The vast majority were advised to take the vaccine by other doctors. The vast majority of those got significantly worse after they took the COVID vaccine.

In fact, the damage to your brain from the COVID vaccine is quantifiable in a $600 MRI test. It's called the NeuroQuant test and I just found out about it today. It takes just 8 minutes in an MRI machine and gives more information than an MRI.

You can prove to yourself that the vaccine causes damage easily. You scan someone before they get the vaccine and then again 2 days later.

Of course, nobody wants to do this study. Nobody wants to know the truth. So we don't know the percentages.

measure the permanent damage

w causes brain injury where the doctors can't even tell you an accurate number for the chance of significant injury because they've never measured it?

Of course, the damage doesn't happen to everyone who gets the shots. This is because the quality control of the vaccine is so poor that many people get "duds." So if you don't get a "dud" shot, what are the chances you'll have a clinically significant brain injury? Nobody knows, but I'd estimate it is happening in at least 5% of people who have been vaccinated.

Are you feeling lucky?

Do you want to do the NeuroQuant study?

If you want to do the study to quantify the amount of brain injury in patients taking the vaccine, please contact me. I'll fund it since the NIH won't.

And I'm sure all the top medical journals will want to publish it, won't they? ;)

Summary

It took me almost two years to find a neurologist who was not afraid of retribution and who was willing to speak out publicly.

There is now absolutely no doubt that the COVID vaccine causes irreversible brain damage that is objectively measurable with a $600 specialized MRI test. It's not in all patients. But it shouldn't be happening in any patients.

What is very troubling is there is no study of people taking a NeuroQuant test before and after taking the vaccine. Is this damage happening in 5% of patients? 40%? 90%? And how significant is the damage?

The world needs to know the harms their governments have done to them. I'm going to make a prediction: people will not be happy when they find out.

And they also won't be happy that their governments weren't even interested enough in their health to fund the research to find out.

Hmmm, could this be why:

Rushed, guaranteed to succeed, corruptly tested, experimental injection? ✓

That killed and maimed well-over a thousand people during the severely abbreviated trial phase? ✓

And also caused 23 spontaneous abortions and 75 serious clinical events from 270 expectant mothers during said trial? ✓

Using a highly dangerous mRNA tech that in the past killed every mouse with ADE? ✓

A tech previously untested on humans, the emergency usage of which upended over a century of vaccine safety and efficacy research? ✓

For a virus far less deadly than the lockdowns themselves? ✓

Also less deadly than the flu - which conveniently went AWOL when COVID hit the scene? ✓

For a (cold) virus they've been unable to cure after over a century of trying? ✓

But somehow all of a sudden, the criminal pharmaceutical companies - notorious for rampant felonious trial fraud - figured it out in less than a year? ✓

And then went on to manufacture billions of quality assured, safe and effective doses at record speed which were then lawfully distributed by the US military? ✓

People actually bought into this on a grand scale, and voluntarily injected this poison? ✓

Another big WHY is: Why would anybody, ESPECIALLY scientists (so-called), push a shot from the criminal Pharma cartel which is an experiment where all the animals died?
