On Monday, a group of lawyers from ten countries released a statement voicing their opposition to the World Health Organisation's ("WHO's") proposed Pandemic Treaty, officially known as WHO CA+, and the amendments to the International Health Regulations ("IHRs").

Over the weekend of 30 June to 2 July, the first international lawyers' congress (https://twitter.com/RA_MarkusHaintz/status/1675097776013688832) of Anwälte für Aufklärung e.V. (https://twitter.com/anwaelte_afa) (English translation Lawyers for Enlightenment e.V.) was held in Cologne, Germany. The congress focused on

No to totalitarianism. Clear statements by the lawyers about the plans to make the WHO a kind of 'health world government': We say NO!," tweeted Dr. Alexander Christ on Sunday (https://twitter.com/acundp/status/1675435215731191808).

Lawyers from ten countries addressed the issues of the WHO pandemic treaty and the planned amendment of the International Health Regulations at an international lawyers' congress this weekend in Cologne. As hosts of the congress, we, the Anwälte für Aufklärung e.V. (Lawyers for Enlightenment) from Germany invited to a press conference today, in which lawyers from Austria, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, France, Spain, Italy, the Czech Republic, the Netherlands, Israel and Germany, among others, took part.

The main results of the meeting: We lawyers reject the plan to draft a pandemic treaty of the World Health Organization WHO and to amend the health regulations IHR. In particular, we call on the states of Europe not to participate in the plans to give the WHO far-reaching rights in the future to declare future pandemics as well as to establish regulations to combat such pandemics, which the member states would then have to comply with mandatorily and without any further possibility of national intervention or review.

In order to be able to react more effectively and more clearly in the future to violations of fundamental human rights and to restrictions of freedom and basic rights against populations by democratic states, the lawyers gathered in Cologne have joined together to form an International Lawyers Association, the International Association of Lawyers for Human Rights (IAL). 27 signatories of the first signatories are on the founding document of the lawyers' association, which will grow decisively in the coming weeks. Behind the foundation are, among others, the Lawyers for Fundamental Rights/Attorneys for Enlightenment Austria, the Lawyers for Enlightenment e.V. Germany, members of the Lawyers Committee from Switzerland, lawyers from the Spanish association Units per la Veritat, to name just a few as examples.

The conference serves to expand the international cooperation of lawyers who have already critically addressed the illegality of state measures and the fragility of national rule of law during the Corona period. These undesirable developments are being raised to the level of supranational organizations such as, in particular, the World Health Organization (WHO), which, with the help of the so-called Pandemic Treaty, is to be enabled to circumvent national as well as European sovereignty rights in the event of a future pandemic.

This is opposed by the lawyers gathered in Cologne, who, on the other hand, are committed to strict compliance with human rights, fundamental rights and freedoms. The core principle here is: human dignity is inviolable. The UN Charter, from which the Universal Declaration of Human Rights derives, the UN Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and on Economic and Social Rights, and the European Convention on Human Rights all claim indispensable validity. Under no circumstances may these be actually or de facto invalidated by a WHO pandemic treaty, not even and especially not in times of pandemics or other health crises.

We lawyers stand for: the protection of fundamental principles of democratic rule of law, for a strict separation of powers in the sense of the principle of "checks and balances", for the principle of legality, for the right of self-determination of peoples, for the principle according to which all power must emanate from the people, for freedom of information and above all for a comprehensive ban on censorship in all states.

We lawyers stand for: the protection of fundamental principles of democratic rule of law, for a strict separation of powers in the sense of the principle of “checks and balances”, for the principle of legality, for the right of self-determination of peoples, for the principle according to which all power must emanate from the people, for freedom of information and above all for a comprehensive ban on censorship in all states.

All these principles are contradicted by the contents of the so-called “WHO Pandemic Treaty”, which is currently being drafted, and the expected changes to the “International Health Regulations” (IHR), which are to be submitted for decision at the WHO General Assembly in 2024. According to the current state of knowledge, which can be found on the European Council's website, among others, the pandemic treaty and amendments to the IHR are aimed at

- Early detection and prevention of pandemics, which required the establishment of a cause-free global early warning and surveillance system,
- Establishment and strengthening of the WHO as the coordinating authority for global health issues, which would effectively disempower national and local health authorities and thus fundamentally contradict the principle of subsidiarity,
- Strengthening international cooperation in areas such as surveillance, alerts, and response, which would be tantamount to establishing a global surveillance system of citizens by states, enforced by WHO; and
- combating “misinformation” worldwide, which would be equivalent to the introduction of censorship.

From the point of view of us lawyers, all four goals would lead to a global surveillance and paternalism system of the WHO in an intolerable way that fundamentally contradicts the principles of the rule of law. Among the principles claiming unbreakable validity, the first to be mentioned is individual self-determination, which, especially in a crisis such as a real pandemic, must always be given priority over state or even supranational paternalism. Secondly, there is the principle of subsidiarity, according to which a higher state or social unit may only intervene to help and take over functions if the forces of the subordinate unit are not sufficient to perform the necessary function. Especially in a pandemic, priority must always be given to local decision-making on necessary measures.

In the past Corona pandemic, for example, the WHO showed through a global failure that it was at no time able to assess the situation correctly. The transfer of power to an anonymous, not democratically legitimated organisation with mafia-like structures, which is supplied from dubious sources of money and is close to the pharmaceutical lobby – to put it mildly – and which in the future is to be able to determine uncontrollably when a pandemic has broken out, when it is over and how people worldwide are then to behave, is to be decisively rejected.

We lawyers say: No to the WHO pandemic treaty and No to the amendment of the International Health Regulations!

We have noted elsewhere, however, that the World created by Mankind is a separate and lesser creation than the Earth.

It should not surprise anyone that the sovereignty that is built into you by Nature, is a different kind of sovereignty than the quagmire of Sovereigns — Kings and Queens and Potentates — created by Mankind

Yet, even in this lesser and undesirable worldly creation, we nonetheless have our Sovereignty intact. This form of Sovereignty that is created by men, derives its power from institutions that are also created by men.

This worldly version of Sovereignty related to this country was won by the Force of Arms when we won The War of Independence, and it was settled upon this nation by William Belcher, a Colonel in the Continental Army.

William Belcher was The Belle Cher of his generation, the Clan Chief, born and raised in this country. He inherited Sovereignty in his own right in England as a result of the Norman Settlement, which granted each of the Norman Barons sovereignty in their own right and their own kingdom in England.

The Norman Barons and their progeny were and are the rightful rulers of England and the Donors to the 1689 Trust; if King John's progeny mess things up, the progeny of the Norman Barons are enabled (and required) to dissolve the Trust creating Great Britain.

The Hereditary Lord High Steward, Lord Talbot, has declared a Regency which is a first step toward that eventuality.

When the time came for the same circumstance to present itself in America, William Belcher stepped forward and bequeathed sovereignty in their own right to every American who fought in The War of Independence, and to every American who would be born on our land and soil forever after.

As in England nearly 700 years before, the Victory by Force of Arms here had the same effect as the Settlement of the Norman Conquest, only here, every man was made a king and every plot of ascertained that he was in Possession of the Victory, and like his own ancestral Benefactor, he was enabled to “share sovereignty”. So he did.

George III's Sovereignty was forever alienated and displaced by the Sovereignty of William of Normandy and his Heirs in England, the Belle Chers. The only scrap left for George III was a Territorial trusteeship on the High Seas and Navigable Inland Waterways, and a ten percent tribute interest in any gold that was mined.

Imagine my amazement when someone suggested that my husband, James Belcher, “granted sovereignty” to anyone?

How would that be?

Every Continental Army Soldier and Navy Sailor, and everyone born in this country ever since the War of Independence ended, already has their sovereignty, first from Nature and Nature's God, and second, ultimately, from William of Normandy.

There has also been a pernicious misunderstanding mistaking the name “Belcher” as an English Surname. It is not used as such. Belcher is merely the English transliteration of Belle Cher, the name of our Clan. My husband does not use a Surname as such, and if he did, it wouldn't be Belcher.

Just as the Clan MacGregor has a Clan Chieftain known as “The MacGregor”, the Belchers aka Belle Chers have a Clan Chieftain known as The Belle Cher. Unlike the Scots Clans, however, that submitted to the rule of King John and his Heirs, the French Clan Belle Cher never did any such thing.

King John was one of theirs.

So we always had our equal or better standing than King John and his Heirs in England. That's why the Magna Carta still stands.

That's why the British Monarch and the denizens of Westminster and the Holy See are all being called to account. It's the reason for The Declaration of the Flag.

It's the reason Lord Talbot is owed the Regency for England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

Every single President from George Washington to Joe Biden, except for Donald Trump, have been related to King John, the same Overseer of the Church's Commonwealth lands, still attached to the service of Pope Innocent III and his Successors,

All the "Presidents" are Plantagenets in violation of the Conventions, Treaties, and Constitutions owed to this country, all acting in hidden conflict of interest.

My husband's role is not to grant sovereignty to anyone, much less Sovereignty that Americans have already earned and which they received over 200 years ago.

His role is to enforce the Sovereignty of this country and hold everyone, including the Plantagenets, accountable for their bad faith.

Just as your rights are not created by nor granted to you by any Constitution, but are instead guaranteed by the Federal Constitutions — a different concept entirely — your Sovereignty is not granted, it's shared.

Ironically, for all the grandstanding the Brits make about liberty and freedom and constitutional government, you can thank William the Conqueror for sharing his Sovereignty with his Barons, and you can thank his Barons for sharing their Sovereignty with you. A.V.R.

The people who run the WHO, as well as every other institution in the Western World, do a passably good imitation of being capable of handling the levels of responsibility that go with their positions, and they bustle about, and look important and grave – but it's all an illusion. They also have been captured by who-knows-who (though we can guess) and do the bidding of their masters. But, for the rest of us, these people are our paid servants, and they've proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that they are not fit for purpose. They basically need to be SACKED

The claim of the Crown and its government is fraudulent and is easy to expose. That means all statutory laws in the UK are invalid. For the Crown and its government to function as currently believed, they must seek consent every year, at the very least pre a general election. So, when was the last time you entered an agreement knowingly with the Crown to form a government? They gain your agreement, but it's done via deception. A deception made in an agreement corrupts the agreement and thus becomes invalid.
