The Great 'Transhumanism' Reset: 'Smart Dust' Spying on Your Brain, Human Microchipping (Video)

 Amy Mek  February 8, 2022  19 comments  8 min read

The merging of humans with machines is being used to advance globalists' interests, reshape humanity, and gain complete control over every aspect of our lives.

As early as 2014, futurologist Dr. Oskar Villani said it was possible to monitor people with barely visible computer chips. These tiny chips are called "Smart Dust." Hundreds of them can be "transferred" to a person with a simple handshake. DARPA, a military research facility of the US Department of Defense, was significantly involved in its development. They also found a way to use Smart Dust to read our brain waves and signals, potentially exposing unexpressed thoughts and moods. The merging of humans with machines is being used to advance globalists' interests, reshape humanity, and gain complete control over every aspect of our lives.

It appears that it is possible to transfer tiny chips, which are hardly visible to the naked eye, to other people with a handshake – it is no longer even necessary to implant microchips to monitor people. On July 1, 2014, the futurologist Oskar Villani was a guest on German television program “Heute Konkret”. The nearly 5-minute interview begins with Villani shaking hands with presenter Claudia Reiterer and then telling her that he has now transferred several hundred microchips to her, which can now be used to monitor her for up to 14 days and read a wide variety of data.

These tiny chips are called “Smart Dust,” hundreds of them can be “transferred” with a simple handshake. DARPA, a military research facility of the US Department of Defense, was significantly involved in the development. Villani also reported there is a way to use Smart Dust to monitor our brains.

Watch the following Interview with Dr. Oskar Villani that has been translated by RAIR Foundation USA here:

Hundreds of Surveillance Chips in a Handshake

The chips can stick to people’s hands and track people worldwide, gather medical data such as blood pressure or blood sugar levels, and biometric data. Normal hand-washing does not remove the chips for at least a week. This means that as early as 2014, total surveillance of people was already possible. Future developments would help to make these devices completely unnoticed.

advancing technologization for a long time. What was once intended as support could prevent personal development and allow for total control. Even babies and children are not spared.

Intelligent Dust: Developed Through Military Research

Because the so-called "smart dust" was already developed in the 1990s by Dr. Kris Pister, a professor of electrical engineering at the University of California, Berkeley, as a simple way to use smart wireless sensors, Pister envisioned a world where ubiquitous sensors could measure almost anything. Unsurprisingly, the U.S. military provided the impetus, funding, and development.

In 1997, DARPA (Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency) funded Pister's research as part of their Smart Dust project. (DARPA was also involved in the development of mRNA technology). Then, in 2001, the American military conducted a surveillance test with the devices. After successfully calculating the speed and direction of 142 military vehicles, the test was declared a great success.

Brain Monitoring

In 2013, MIT reported, "How Smart Dust Could Spy On Your Brain." This study revealed how Smart Dust is already developed, used, and soon will be a daily part of our lives.

Once again, Researchers at the University of California, Berkely, were the first to propose what they called 'neural dust' – millimeter-sized sensors that could be implanted in the body and used to stimulate nerves and muscles and monitor the activity of different organs.

It consists of "many small wireless microelectromechanical systems (MEMS)." MEMS are tiny devices with cameras, sensors, and communication mechanisms to transmit the data to be stored and further processed. They are usually between 20 micrometers and one millimeter in size. They are wirelessly connected to a computer network and distributed over a specific area to perform tasks, generally using RFID technology(Radio Frequency Identification) can be recorded.

implanted devices.” And further: “The soft parts of our body consist mostly of saltwater. Sound waves can pass through this tissue unhindered and be focused with great accuracy on nerve targets deep in our body, while radio waves cannot.” Using ultrasound to communicate with the nerve dust also allows the sensors to be made smaller. For example, they can be introduced into the body by injection with a needle.

New “Neural Dust” sensor could be implanted in the b...

This, therefore, is a technology that can be used in the spirit of transhumanists. Elon Musk has already founded Neuralink, a company whose goal is to connect the human brain to a computer. The company is developing an ultra-high bandwidth brain chip to connect humans, computers, and artificial intelligence, what Musk refers to as “a Fitbit in your skull with tiny wires.”

In 2020, Musk and Neuralink demonstrated their success with implanting just such a chip in pigs, with humans being their next target.

GETTING A LINK

In 2021, he touted Neurlink's progress in a new video in which he claims a 9-year-old macaque monkey is playing ping-pong with his mind. Neuralinks were placed on each side of Pager's brain, according to the video. The links track the parts of the brain focused on hand and arm movements and record the neural activity.

Connecting the human brain to computers is a goal of all globalists and their organizations. Watch the World Economic Forum leader and “transhumanism” enthusiast Klaus Schwab casually discuss a future where chips will be implanted in people’s brains from this 2016 interview,

Schwab explained that these chips could be a “direct communication between our brains and the digital world.” He believes what we will see is a kind of “fusion of the physical, digital and biological world,” in other words, transhumanism.

Schwab has written two books about the transhuman revolution: “The Fourth Industrial Revolution” (2017) and “Shaping the Fourth Industrial Revolution” (2018), which had a forward by Satya Nadella, the CEO of Microsoft. And let’s not forget his other “Covid-19: The Great Reset” (July 2020), which elucidates the strategy to use the virus crisis to unleash the true potential of the revolution.

In his book “Shaping the Fourth Industrial Revolution,” Schwab advocates for a future in which authorities will be able to utilize the blending of technology with the human body to “intrude into the hitherto private space of our minds, reading our thoughts and influencing our behavior.”

Schwab writes that the ability “for law enforcement agencies and courts to use techniques to determine the likelihood of criminal activity, assess guilt or even possibly retrieve memories directly from people’s brains will increase,” adding, “Even crossing a national border might one day involve a detailed brain scan to assess an individual’s security risk.”

Klaus goes on to state that the “Fourth Industrial Revolution technologies will not stop at becoming part of the physical world around us; they will become part of us,” adding,

» Indeed, some of us already feel that our smartphones have become an extension of ourselves. Today’s external devices—from wearable computers to virtual reality headsets—will almost certainly become implantable in our bodies and brains.

Exoskeletons and prosthetics will increase our physical power, while advances in neurotechnology enhance our cognitive

For years, people have been implanted with chips linked to digital currencies and smart devices through the 5G network to process payments directly and allow them to access their homes, offices, and gyms. The chips also allow big-tech databases and government surveillance measures to track and monitor their location, activities, and behaviors.

A global system of totalitarian technocracy has arrived; of course, I'm sure it will only help us! What an exciting "brave new world" we are entering. As Klaus notes:

» [It] will change not only what we do but also who we are. It will affect our identity and all the issues associated with it: our sense of privacy, our notions of ownership, our consumption patterns, the time we devote to work and leisure, and how we develop our careers, cultivate our skills, meet people, and nurture relationships."

God made the first man in His image.
And Satan has been trying to re-make man in his image ever since.

God will allow the devils servants to take the mark, the vaccines, and whatever else the Antichrist has to offer. That's why they will be controlled by the prince of the power of the air. It's also why Joe told

I first heard of this tech in 1999 in Gaza, where the Israelis had been testing it on Palestinians for a decade already. They called it 'lazer dust'. An informant would rub it on the individual vehicle that IDF wanted to assassinate so they could strike its occupants even in the midst of a big crowd and "smart target" only them. Its been used there since the early 90s. Know your enemies.

Interesting you are upset at HIS comment but not at the man pushing this on the ENTIRE world. C. Schwab. Tells me everything about YOU.

It is critical that you DO NOT willingly take the mark! They can do whatever they like, you have no control over that...but, the moment you agree to the mark, while full well knowing God, his word, and in particular, Revelations, you have then of your own free will, submitted to Satan and the anti-Christ.

The merging machine with human is done on behalf of Klaus Schwab and Elon Musk through the CIA DARPA Harvard Wyss foundation of the Wyss Family of which Klaus Schwab is a member of. Elon Musk and Klaus Schwab work together on the following Technologies:
Neural Lace (Graphene Nanoparticles that are inside the COVID Jabs)
Neural Link (Implantable and digestible Microchips that enhance and translate the data from Neural Lace)
Starlink (GGGGG Network that is independent and out of reach to which the Human is connected)
Boston Dynamics aka "Tesla Robots" (The robot police of the future 21022)

Which makes me wonder what is in the nose to the brain swab. The supposed “test” is actually a tech used to vaccinate cattle.

Perhaps this is somewhat overrated. The fact is that the sizes of nanochips are very small in order to accumulate at least some more or less significant amount of information. And it's not clear how to read it then? Microwave radiation is most likely not suitable, as it will mainly be absorbed by the soft tissues of the human body <http://dissertacii-diplom-ufa.ru/informacija/texnika/svch/izmeritel.html>

Yeah, but please don't believe everything you read or hear; smart dust or another type of technology cannot read “thoughts”... at all!!!

They can mess with the brain in different ways, specially under the influence of electromagnetic wave radiation, but that thoughts can be read is an exaggeration, a myth!!!

Too many christians have been conditioned to believe that the tech inside the vax is the “mark of the beast”... this is due to ignorance!!!

That ‘mark’ has to meet 3 basic conditions:

- 1) be a volunteer act, not anything forced or forwarded;
- 2) it has to stay either on the right hand or forehead, and the tech stays on NONE;
- 3) and most importantly, the ‘mark’ has to be a SPIRITUAL MARK, nor just a piece of modern technology.

“Noahide Laws”... in which its symbol is the  we nowadays see everywhere.

American freemason of the 20th century, Manly P. Hall wrote in his book “The Secret Teachings of All Ages”, that the “rainbow” signifies “the rainbow bridge between man’s consciousness and the seething energies of Lucifer.”

David Spangler also stated that ‘no one enters the New Age unless he participates in a ritual of initiation into Lucifer worship’.
